Confesses He Killed Man In Florida

Madison Ex-Convict Leads Police to Body of Victim

Clearwater, Fla.—A former convict who says he has been scrapping with police since he was 10 faces a first-degree murder charge today. Sheriff Don Genung said he would file the charge as soon as possible, probably today, against 32-year-old Lynn Dunning of Madison, Wis.

Early Sunday Dunning led police to a badly decomposed body of James D. Tomlinson, 25, in a drainage ditch in a wooded area north of St. Petersburg. Police said Dunning signed a statement admitting he shot the St. Petersburg electronics engineer after an argument Aug. 24.

Met in Bar Dunning said he met Tomlinson in a Tampa bar and then drove to another bar on St. Petersburg Beach in Tomlinson's car. On the way back to Tampa, the statement said, the two argued and Dunning pulled out a pistol which he said accidentally discharged, wounding Tomlinson. Dunning said Tomlinson got out of the car and he killed him with another shot.

Tampa police found Tomlinson's car on a downtown street Saturday and picked up Dunning when he got in the car. Dunning told officers he has a long record of arrests, saying "I've been in and out of jail since I was 10 years old."

Police in Madison, Wis., reported he is wanted in that state for parole violation. He was paroled from Wisconsin State Prison at Waupun last December after serving seven years for assault and armed robbery, armed robbery, and assault with intent to commit murder.

Tomlinson, father of a 10-month-old girl, had been the subject of a wide search since his disappearance. He was a native of Ishpeming, Mich.

Olkoski was arrested at the intersection of Highways 10 and 45 in the town of Greenville at 4:15 Sunday afternoon. He did not take the drunkometer test.

His passenger, Charles Zubrinski, 36, Chicago, owner of the car, was charged with allowing an unauthorized person to drive, public intoxication and disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

Zubrinski paid a $15 fine on the first charge and trial for other charges has been set for Sept. 23. He is in jail awaiting the arrival of bond money—$23.95 for public intoxication and $38.95 for disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

His 7-year-old daughter, picked up by the men after visiting in Iron Mountain, Mich., also is at the jail with a matron awaiting arrival of relatives from Chicago.

Kaukaunan Dies as Car Snaps Pole, Crashes Into Home

Sheboygan County Family Killed When Passenger Train Hits Auto

(Picture on Page A10)

A tragic weekend on Wisconsin highways brought death to 20 persons, including five members of a Sheboygan county family wiped out in a car-train crash and a Kaukauna man who was killed when the car in which he was a passenger crashed into a house. The total equaled the number killed during the 3-day Labor day weekend.

The toll raised Wisconsin's 1958 highway death list to 547, compared with 595 on this day a year ago.

Leroy Heindel, 30, 804 Desnoyer street, Kaukauna, became Kaukauna's fourth traffic fatality and Outagamie county's seventh this year about 2:15 Sunday morning. The car in which he was riding snapped off a telephone pole, traveled more than 500 feet, went over a curb, struck the front of a house and bounced away, spinning completely around.

Entire Family The car was driven by Arny Richard Bayorgeon, 24, 225 Doty street, Kaukauna. Heindel was pronounced dead on arrival at Kaukauna Community hospital a few minutes after the accident. He died of a skull fracture. Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps said.

Bayorgeon is in critical condition.

Burning Schooner Sunk After 40 Aboard are Saved

New York —A U.S. Coast Guard cutter rescued 40 Portuguese fishermen from their burning schooner in the Atlantic before dawn today and then sank the craft to keep it from menacing navigation.

First reports were that a Spanish trawler had saved the fishermen. The schooner, the 270-ton, 3-masted Ana Maria, caught fire 200 miles southeast of Cape Race, Newfoundland, from an undetermined cause and then developed a leak in the hull.

Ike Given Reports on Situation in Far East

Newport, R.I.—President Eisenhower today got reports on latest developments in the Far East crisis—including Red China's renewed artillery bombardment of the nationalist embattled Quemoy island.

Sees Benefit If Both Sides Want Accord

Favors Meeting Of 2 Ambassadors At Polish Capital

London —A Red China's Mao Tze-tung today gave the green light for talks over the Formosa situation with the United States in Warsaw. He said such talks "might lead to some results provided both sides wanted to settle the question," Peiping radio reported.

Mao, chairman of the Chinese communist party, spoke to the red Chinese supreme state council.

The radio said: "Chairman Mao was hopeful about the ambassadorial talks between China and the United States which would begin in Warsaw."

"He said the talks might lead to some results provided both sides had the sincere desire to settle the question. 'People all over the world were now watching the coming talks between the representatives of the two countries.'"

Welcomed by U.S. Red China's premier, Chou En-lai, proposed talks with the United States on the ambassadorial level last Saturday. The talks were broken off last December after 73 meetings in Geneva.

The White House later issued a statement welcoming the offer, and said U.S. Ambassador Jacob Beam in Warsaw was ready to meet with red China's ambassador there.

"That is intolerable, intolerable, intolerable," Jamaican Chief Minister Norman Manley shouted to policemen. He said they would not let him talk to people "in a public place like this"—Alfred road in Paddington, scene of recent clashes between whites and non-whites.

Kerosene Bomb Thrown Manley was touring the quarter along with the mayor of Paddington, Deputy Premier Carl Lacorbiere of the West Indies Federation and Prime Minister Hugh Cummings of Barbados.

Police were patrolling the area after a kerosene bomb had been thrown through the window of a Negro's house, injuring him and his wife. The incident kept racial tension alive after a weekend comparatively free of violence.

Make No Attack on U. S. Naval Craft in Renewal Of Assaults on Islands

BY SPENCER MOOSA

Taipei —A Red Chinese guns reopened their artillery war on the nationalist offshore islands today, blasting a nationalist supply ship at a Quemoy beach but making no attempt to menace U.S. warships offshore.

The artillery bombardment, ending a 24-day lull in the vest pocket war, came after nationalist jets fought a furious air battle with red MIGs off the mainland near Swatow this morning. The nationalists claimed seven MIGs shot down and two damaged. There were reports the nationalists answered the new red artillery pounding with a bombing raid on communist gun positions at Weitou. These same reports said another dogfight raged between jet fighters over Weitou, 7½ miles northeast of Quemoy.

But the nationalist defense ministry denied both reports. The nationalists have said they would send planes on bombing raids of the mainland if the reds resumed artillery assaults on the offshore islands.

The red artillery attack was concentrated on Quemoy beach areas. The supply ship suffered two direct hits and exploded. Officials here said it may have been destroyed.

Secrecy on Escorts Presumably the ship was escorted to Quemoy by U.S. warships. U.S. headquarters here refused to confirm or deny that the supply ship was escorted to Quemoy. A blanket of secrecy was thrown over escort operations.

But the nationalists indicated U.S. destroyers were near Quemoy at the time of the bombardment, and well inside red China's newly proclaimed 12-mile sea border. Adm. Wallace M. Beakley, commander of the seventh fleet, said Sunday American warship escorts would be the routine thing in the Formosa Strait now. The first daylight escort was carried out Sunday and the American ships remained a few miles off the red mainland.

U.S. ships are staying outside the generally recognized 3-mile sea limit of red China but refuse to abide by the communists' new 12-mile ruling. Unconfirmed reports said nationalist planes made their first bombing runs of the Formosa Strait war against mainland gun positions after the shelling of Quemoy resumed. The nationalists had announced they would bomb the red artillery posts if the communists resumed their attack.

These same reports said nationalist planes were locked in a furious dogfight over Weitou, 7½ miles northeast of Quemoy where the communists have their biggest guns. The Weitou guns have been blamed for the artillery attacks both on Quemoy beach and on the main military hospital on Quemoy.

The nationalists meanwhile claimed their biggest victory so far in the air—seven communist MIG jets shot down and two damaged in a blazing 10-minute battle near Swatow, 130 miles south of Quemoy. The nationalists said one of their Supersabres was hit but returned to base without difficulty.

(A Peiping radio broadcast heard in Tokyo said red fighters damaged two nationalist F86 Sabre jets out of 16 that came in two waves. The broadcast did not mention any red losses nor did it give the number of communist planes involved in the dogfight.)

Becoming Routine The nationalist defense ministry said the reds renewed their bombardment of Quemoy with a barrage that started at 8:57 p.m., the ministry said, but gave no other details.

Peiping radio charged earlier today that U.S. warships "have again intruded into

North Korean and ROK Troops in Clash

Seoul —A South Korean defense ministry sources said six or seven communist North Korean soldiers staged a pre-dawn attack today along the demilitarized zone, killing one and wounding another. The sources said the attack took place near Chorwon, 90 miles northeast of Seoul on the west central front—a section of the demilitarized zone patrolled by the South Korean army.

South Korean units reportedly returned fire.

Hints at Another W. Berlin Blockade

Official Accuses Bonn Regime Of Hampering Trade With East

Leipzig, East Germany—A Deputy Premier Heinrich Rau hinted strongly today that the reds are considering a new blockade of isolated West Berlin.

Rau, who is also the communist regime's trade minister, accused West Germany of hampering trade with East Germany and said in an interview:

"The supplying of the West Berlin population from West Germany will depend on the future attitude of the Bonn government on the question of inter-German trade."

"If the Bonn government continues to limit inter-German trade by a further restriction of our exports to West Germany, then the supplying of West Berlin will collapse."

Pressure on Bonn "We have always found ways and means of defending ourselves. We will find ways this time, too. I do not believe Bonn will be able to stop inter-German trade altogether in view of the consequences of this."

"If Bonn continues its stubborn attitude then it will force East Germany to reorientate its entire foreign trade which will result in a further extension of trade with the east (Soviet bloc)."

The interview followed Rau's opening address at the Leipzig fall trade fair in which he complained that the western orientation of the Bonn government is hampering trade between the two halves of Germany.

The East Germans are anxious to obtain large quantities of West German machine tools and other products to help boost their own industrial output under a third 5-year plan.

U. S. Jet Airliner Sets Record in Flight to London

London—America's new jet airliner, a Pan American World Airways Boeing 707, zipped across the Atlantic in an elapsed flying time of 3 hours and 47 minutes today, cutting more than an hour off the commercial airline record.

The best previous time for an airline flight over the 1,975 miles between Gander, Newfoundland and Shannon airport in Ireland was 5 hours and 3 minutes.

But the total time from New York to London, including stops at Gander and Shannon, was 10 hours and 22 minutes. An airline spokesman called this a slow flight. When the 707 goes into service, it is expected to make the New York-London flight in 6½ hours, including stops.

Two Fined for Tippy Driving Men From Chicago, West DePere in Municipal Court

Two drivers appeared in municipal court this morning on charges of drunken driving.

Both Clifford W. Marzolf, 42, 319 Marsh street, West DePere, and Steven E. Olkoski, 41, Chicago, paid $100 and their driver's licenses were revoked. Olkoski also paid $15 for driving without a license.

Marzolf was arrested at the intersection of Highways 10 and 45 in the town of Greenville at 4:15 Sunday afternoon. He did not take the drunkometer test.

Olkoski was arrested on Highway 41 south of County Trunk JJ at 5:40 Sunday afternoon. He tested .23 on the drunkometer. A reading of .15 is considered evidence of intoxication.

His passenger, Charles Zubrinski, 36, Chicago, owner of the car, was charged with allowing an unauthorized person to drive, public intoxication and disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

Zubrinski paid a $15 fine on the first charge and trial for other charges has been set for Sept. 23. He is in jail awaiting the arrival of bond money—$23.95 for public intoxication and $38.95 for disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

His 7-year-old daughter, picked up by the men after visiting in Iron Mountain, Mich., also is at the jail with a matron awaiting arrival of relatives from Chicago.

Holds Up 4 in Colorado Lover's Lane, Escapes With Kidnaped Girl

Fort Collins, Colo.—A Fort Collins man was questioned today in the kidnaping of an 18-year-old blonde girl by a rifle-armed holdup man. The girl, Marjorie Schneider, a Fort Collins stenographer, was dragged screaming into an automobile by the gunman who robbed her three companions in a lover's lane yesterday and shot up their car. No trace of the girl or the gunman has been reported.

Identity Not Revealed Sheriff Ray Scheerer declined to identify the man brought to his office for questioning or say whether he was acquainted with the missing girl.

Sheriff Ray Scheerer and more than a score of deputies combed the northern Colorado area in patrol cars during the night, but turned up no lead to the missing girl and her captor. Roadblocks were maintained throughout the region. The kidnaping occurred at

Miss Schneider Horsetooth reservoir four miles southwest of Fort Collins. Miss Schneider's companions rushed two miles to telephone officers. Scheerer said indications are that the crew-cut gunman is very dangerous and extremely accurate with the high powered rifle which he carries. He said he suspects the man is mentally deranged.

Scheerer identified other occupants of the car as Miss Schneider's date, Ellsworth E. Farnik, 21, a student of Colorado State university here from Estes Park, Colo.; James Coleman, 19, a Fort Collins fireman, and his wife, Janet, 18.

Bullets Damage Auto Scheerer said the bullets from the gunman's rifle shattered the Farnik vehicle's windshield, shot out the headlights, two front tires and radiator.

None of the four was injured. After the first shot, the couples crouched in the seats to avoid being struck. Mrs. Coleman said the armed man made the four climb from the car, ordered them

File Protest of Outside Jobs by Fire, Policemen

Painters Say It Is Violation of Commission Rules

Appleton painters and decorators say policemen and firemen are violating rules of the fire and police commission by doing such work in their off-duty hours.

In a letter this morning to Mayor Clarence A. Mitchell, two painters say more and stronger protests will be made if the matter is not settled to their satisfaction.

A petition of protest was sent to the fire and police commission in August saying such work by fire and policemen interferes with the livelihood of painters and decorators. The petition was signed by a majority of Appleton painters, according to the letter.

Ask for List

James R. Joyce, a fire and police commission member, said the protest would be considered at a commission meeting tonight. He said the police and fire chiefs had been asked to furnish the commission with a list of their men holding outside jobs. Joyce said a limited number of firemen were doing this type of work and none from the police department.

The letter to the mayor quoted the fire and police commission rules as saying: "Each member of the police force shall devote his whole time and attention to the business of the department and he is expressly prohibited from following any other calling, or being employed in any other business."

The letter to the mayor contained the names of Joseph J. Jochman, 723 E. Circle street, and Harlow S. Feavel, 2312 N. Union street. Jochman was identified as a painting and decorating contractor and Feavel as a member of Painters Local 1098.

J. P. Sullivan Dies of Heart Attack While Visiting Relatives

James P. Sullivan, 75, route 2, Hortonville, died unexpectedly of a heart attack Sunday afternoon while visiting his sister and two brothers at their home in the town of Bear Creek.

He collapsed and died at 3:30 in the afternoon. He was born on the Bear Creek homestead June 18, 1883. He worked as a carpenter for several years and then operated a farm in the town of Hortonville until his retirement about two years ago.

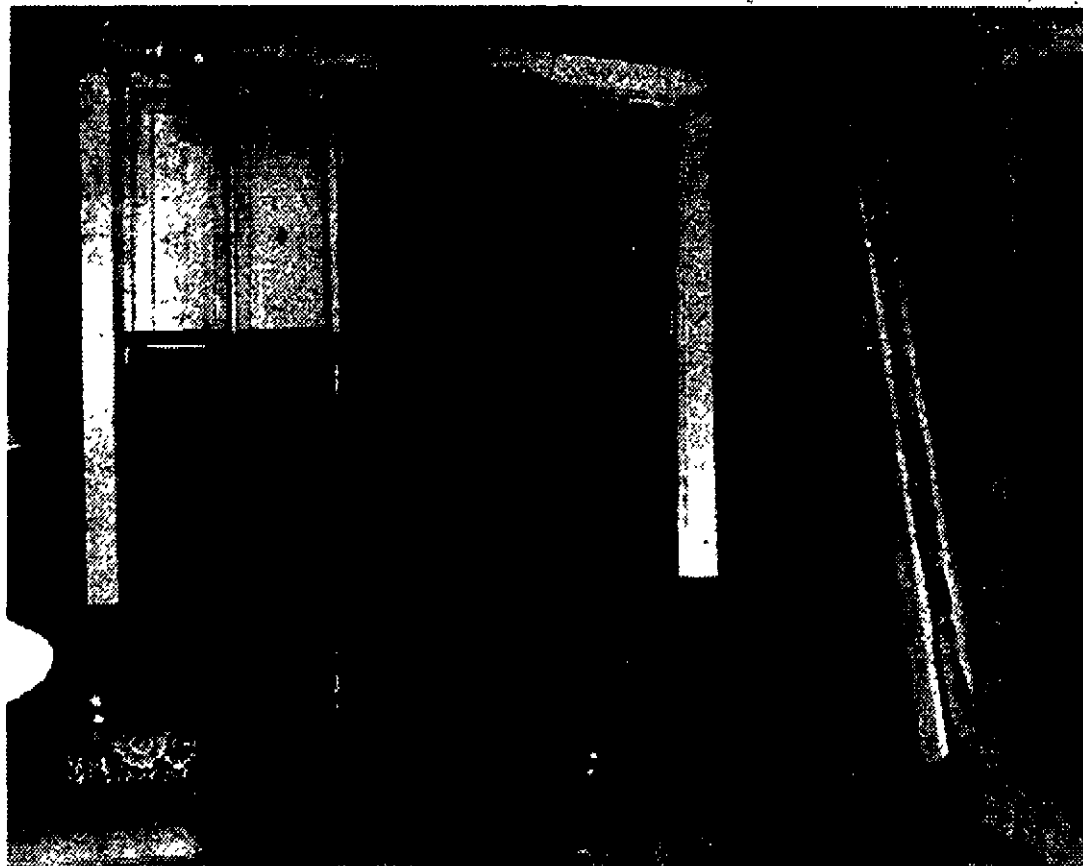

Besides his sister, Miss Agnes Sullivan, and two brothers, Patrick and Jerry Sullivan, town of Bear Creek, survivors include his wife; one daughter, Mrs. Edward Roets, Oshkosh; three sons, Clair, Menasha, Edward, at home, and Garrett, Appleton, and seven grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at 9:30 Wednesday morning at Most Precious Blood Catholic church, New London. Burial will be in the parish cemetery. Friends may call at the Cline and Hanson Funeral home, New London, after 7 o'clock tonight.

Man Dies as He Calls Firemen For Assistance

Arthur P. Bellinghausen, 46, 225 N. Meade street, died Sunday morning as he called the Appleton fire department rescue squad for help.

Bellinghausen gave the firemen an address which sounded like 225 N. Main street, they reported. A check by the telephone company on lines open indicated the correct address and the squad found Bellinghausen collapsed beside the telephone.

Bellinghausen had a heart attack earlier this year and death was due to an apparent heart attack, Coroner Bernard H. Kemps said.

Born Aug. 17, 1912, Bellinghausen was staff assistant to

Arthur Bellinghausen

the manager of professional services, research and development division, Kimberly-Clark corporation.

Funeral services will be at 10:30 Tuesday morning at the Brettschneider Funeral home with burial in St. Joseph cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home from 4 o'clock this afternoon until 9 o'clock tonight.

Survivors include his wife, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bellinghausen, Milwaukee; three daughters, Carol, Gail and Jean, all at home; and one sister, Mrs. Glen Holdmann, Milwaukee.

Appeal Board To Consider Two Petitions

The board of building appeals will consider petitions by two residents at its meeting at 7 o'clock tonight in the office of Building Inspector Walter Bogan.

August Lieske, 1344 W. Spring street, wants a permit to build a house at the northwest corner of N. Bennett and W. Winnebago streets. Lieske bought the lot which is back of the corner lot, before the city passed an ordinance setting the minimum size of a home lot at 5,000 square feet. Bogan says the lot meets every other requirement.

Lyle Kubitz, 1419 E. Amelia street, has been stopped from building a garage because it is only seven feet from N. Ullman avenue. He already has laid the concrete slab and erected some of the studding. Bogan said he issued the building permit and told Kubitz the garage must be set back from the street line 35 feet. Because it is a corner lot this applies to both streets, Bogan ruled.

Kubitz said he thought the setback applied only to E. Amelia because his house fronts on that street. He considered the inside of the sidewalk along N. Ullman as his property line, which requires only a 6-foot setback.

Gerald of Exeland, Wis., and John of Appleton; eight grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren

Weyenberg Infant

Joseph Weyenberg, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Weyenberg, 1129 Harrison street Kaukauna, died at Kaukauna at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. He was born Saturday. A twin survives.

Funeral services were at 10 o'clock this morning at the Fargo Funeral home, Kaukauna, with burial in Holy Cross cemetery, Kaukauna.

Besides his parents, he is survived by four brothers, Douglas, John, Michael and James, the twin; three sisters, Lynn, Margaret and Barbara, all at home; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dorsey, route 3, Appleton, and Mr. and Mrs. George Weyenberg, route 1, Kaukauna

Sam O. Goli

Sam O. Goli, 89, died at his town of Iola farm home Friday morning. He was born Jan. 18, 1869, in Norway and came to Winchester with his family when he was 13.

Funeral services will be at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the Hiltedahl Lutheran church with burial in the church cemetery. Friends may call at the Voie Funeral home, Iola, until noon Tuesday and then at the church. He is survived by three

Have No Need Trade Unions For Coercion

Right to Work Law Need Not Impair Labor Effectiveness

Y DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — Sen. Knowland has gotten an unexpected assist in his contest for governor of California as the nominee of the Republican party. It comes unwittingly from the "liberal party" of New York state and could play a significant part in the political debate that has arisen in California over "right to work" laws.

The "liberal party" of New York state asked certain questions of Frank S. Hogan, district attorney — who had just been given the nomination for U.S. senator on the Democratic ticket — and, after receiving his answers, decided to accord him the "liberal party" nomination. One of the questions read as follows:

"Will you oppose 'right to work' laws?"

The answer given by Hogan wins the prize of the year for adroitness and yet directness. He wrote:

Great Benefits
"Trade unionism has brought great benefits to our national welfare. I am unalterably opposed to 'right to work' laws which tend to impair the effectiveness of labor unions."

Sen. Knowland, who has been attacked for his stand on "right to work" laws, could endorse every syllable of that statement. In fact, that's exactly what he has been urging — namely, the passage of "right to work" laws that do not impair the effectiveness of labor unions. Indeed, "right to work" laws can definitely assist in making labor unions effective. For such organizations would be stronger if they were in no respect dependent on coercion and would instead rest their case solely on voluntarism.

The only "right to work" laws which have been championed by Sen. Knowland are those which would not interfere in any way with the right of the labor unions to persuade by lawful methods any citizen to join a labor union of his choice. This would at the same time protect the citizen who does not want to join a labor union. For it would protect him against any employer is compelled to agree to fire after thirty days any employee who refuses to join a labor union.

Army Recruiters Move to New Office Location

The army recruiting office in Appleton has been moved to 117 S. Superior street, Master Sgt. Donald F. Andringa, chief recruiter, reports. The army recruiters were formerly located at the post office. Two offices and a waiting room are included at the new location. Office hours remain the same—8 o'clock in the morning to 5 o'clock in the afternoon, Monday through Friday, and 8 o'clock in the morning to noon on Saturday. Staffing the office are Andringa, a veteran of 14 years in service, and Sgt. Alfred Nieft, a 10-year veteran. Andringa has served in England, Greenland, Korea, Japan, and the Asiatic-Pacific theater during World war II. Nieft's last assignment was in Korea. Both men have attended recruiters' school at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind.

The supreme court of the United States in recent years has been particularly zealous in condemning interferences by either the federal or state governments with the right of a citizen to believe as he pleases and to associate with whomever he pleases. This "right of association" has figured lately in many important decisions of the court. Plainly, if a worker doesn't want to join a union because he has conscientious scruples on the subject and doesn't, for instance, want to see any part of his dues used for propaganda or "educational" campaigns designed to defeat candidates for public office that he favors, it is a constitutional privilege he enjoys not to have any of his dues money—

Start Work on Highway in Ogdensburg

Wausau — Construction of a mile and a half of asphalt paved road through the village of Ogdensburg was begun today by the county highway department, according to Charles Larson, highway commissioner.

The $56,700 project received Gov. Vernon Thomson's approval Friday. It will include grading, paving and widening the present village road. Main street will be a 4-lane road running from sidewalk to sidewalk. Road widths throughout town will vary from the 4-lane 60-foot width strip on Main street to 30-foot widths on outlying streets.

Cost of the Ogdensburg project will be shared equally by the state government and the county, each paying $28,350.

A special enlistment for the air defense command is being offered by the army, Andringa said. Qualified personnel are given the opportunity to enlist for duty in the metropolitan service, and Sgt. Alfred Nieft, area of their choice.

5 Contests on Primary Ballot For Winnebago

Opposition for Three GOP, Two Democrat Posts on Ticket

Oshkosh — Three Republican contests and two on the Democratic ballot will highlight voting in Tuesday's primary election for county and area legislative officers.

The Democrats this year have candidates for all but one county office. Their district attorney candidate movsembly district which includes four Oshkosh wards, the village of Winnebago, city of Omro and all the townships except the towns of Neenah and Menasha, have contests both on the Republican and Democratic tickets.

Seeking the Republican nomination are incumbent Joseph H. Anderson, Winnebago, and Floyd Shurbert, town of Algoma. The Democratic candidates are L. J. Campbell, Winnebago, and Herman Brandt, town of Omro.

Head School Board Anderson is completing his second 2-year term in the assembly and also has served seven years as president of the Winnebago community school district and 31 years ed out of the county two days before the deadline for filing nomination papers.

Republicans have contests for two assemblyman posts, and the coroner's office while the Democratic contests are for state senator and second district assemblyman.

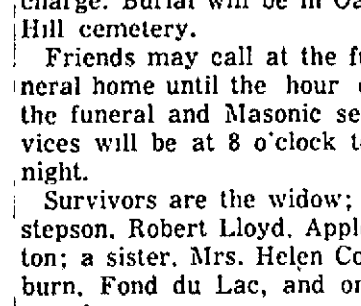

Residents of the third assembly district will choose between two Republican candidates for that office, Arnold J. Cane, Menasha, the incumbent for eight years, and Kenneth J. Heinz, a member of the town of Neenah board Warren Wilke, Neenah, is unopposed in the Democratic ticket for the third assembly district office.

Served Since 1950 Cane, 43, received his college and law degree from Marquette university and has practiced law in Menasha since 1937. He is a past president of the Menasha school board and past president of the Winnebago County Bar association.

Boy Hurts Hand In Experiment With Rocket

Homemade Missile Explodes, Sending Boy to Hospital

Neenah — A 13-year-old amateur rocketeer nearly lost his left hand in a rocket experiment Sunday afternoon.

Danny Arndt, 13, 387 Oak street, Menasha, is in Thea Clark hospital with severe lacerations in his hand and smaller ones in his face.

Danny, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Arndt, built the rocket out of an aluminum tube and black gunpowder in the family garage without his parents' knowledge, his father told Neenah police Sunday night.

Danny and three friends, aged 11 and 13, took the homemade missile to the wooded area on the shore of Lake Winnebago south of Nicolet boulevard shortly before 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon to launch it. Danny lit the fuse, he later told his father, but the rocket did not go off.

Just as he was picking it up to throw it into the lake, the rocket exploded. The other boys took Danny to the nearby home of D. L. Kimberly. Mrs. Kimberly took him to the hospital.

The boys originally told police a story about a pair of leather jacketed teenagers throwing a bomb at them but Danny admitted the true story to his father Sunday evening.

Police Chief Irving Stulp this morning said that the boy was lucky to have his hand after the incident. Stulp urged parents to keep close supervision over any youngsters' experiments in the realm of ballistic science.

Two classrooms are now empty in the Hoover school addition and one room empty at Taft and Wilson schools.

Committee to Meet

Menasha — The St. John Catholic church building committee will meet at 7:30 Wednesday evening in the grade school hall.

N. H. Bergstrom Elected; Succeeds Cola G. Parker

Neenah — Nathan H. Bergstrom, a member of the board of trustees of Theda

Bergstrom

Clark Memorial hospital for the last 10 years, has been elected chairman of the board. He succeeds Cola G. Parker who will continue as a trustee.

The board adopted a resolution of appreciation and gratitude for Parker's service. Parker was elected a trustee March 11, 1946, and became president in June of 1949.

Other officers reelected are J. B. Catlin as vice president, Charles H. Sage as treasurer and Ambrose Owen as secretary. The other trustees are Leo Croy and Donald Shepard, Jr.

Botany, Zoology Teacher Named For UW Centers

Menasha — Anthony J. Catana, Jr., a botany and zoology teacher, will instruct classes at the University of Wisconsin's Menasha and Green Bay extension centers this year, Henry Duwe, acting director of the extension division, announced today.

Catana was released from the United States Army in August after serving two years as an officer. He is a graduate of Rutgers university, Brunswick, N. J., and received his master's degree in botany from the University of Wisconsin in 1954. He is currently working toward his doctor of philosophy degree.

Game Cancelled

Omro — The football game between Omro and Wautoma, originally scheduled for Saturday night, was called off because Wautoma didn't have the required number of practice days.

Courthouse to Close

Oshkosh — The Winnebago county courthouse will be closed all day Tuesday because of the primary election, County Clerk Nell A. Hoffmann announced.

W. D. Trout Named Head Of Group

Oshkosh — William D. Trout, assistant vice president of First National bank, Oshkosh, has been named chairman of the Winnebago county chapter of the National Foundation, formerly the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The chapter will continue to assist polio patients who need help, the chairman said, and in time will participate in a patient aid program for victims of arthritis and birth defects.

Trout is a graduate of the Rutgers university school of banking and is a member of the Kiwanis club, Central Wisconsin Association of Credit Manufacturers, Oshkosh Chamber of Commerce, Junior Chamber of Commerce and Robert Morris associates.

He is secretary of Lake Shore Men's Golf club and is organist for Immanuel Lutheran church.

Social Agencies Board to Elect Two Directors

Neenah — Directors of the Neenah-Menasha Community council will meet at the Elks club Tuesday noon to name directors to replace Mrs. W. B. Bellack, who has moved to California, and Eugene Gillis of the Apostolate who has left for additional university studies.

Fifty-two local organizations have registered so far this year for council membership which is open to any club, organization or department interested in health, welfare, youth, recreation or social legislation affecting Neenah-Menasha.

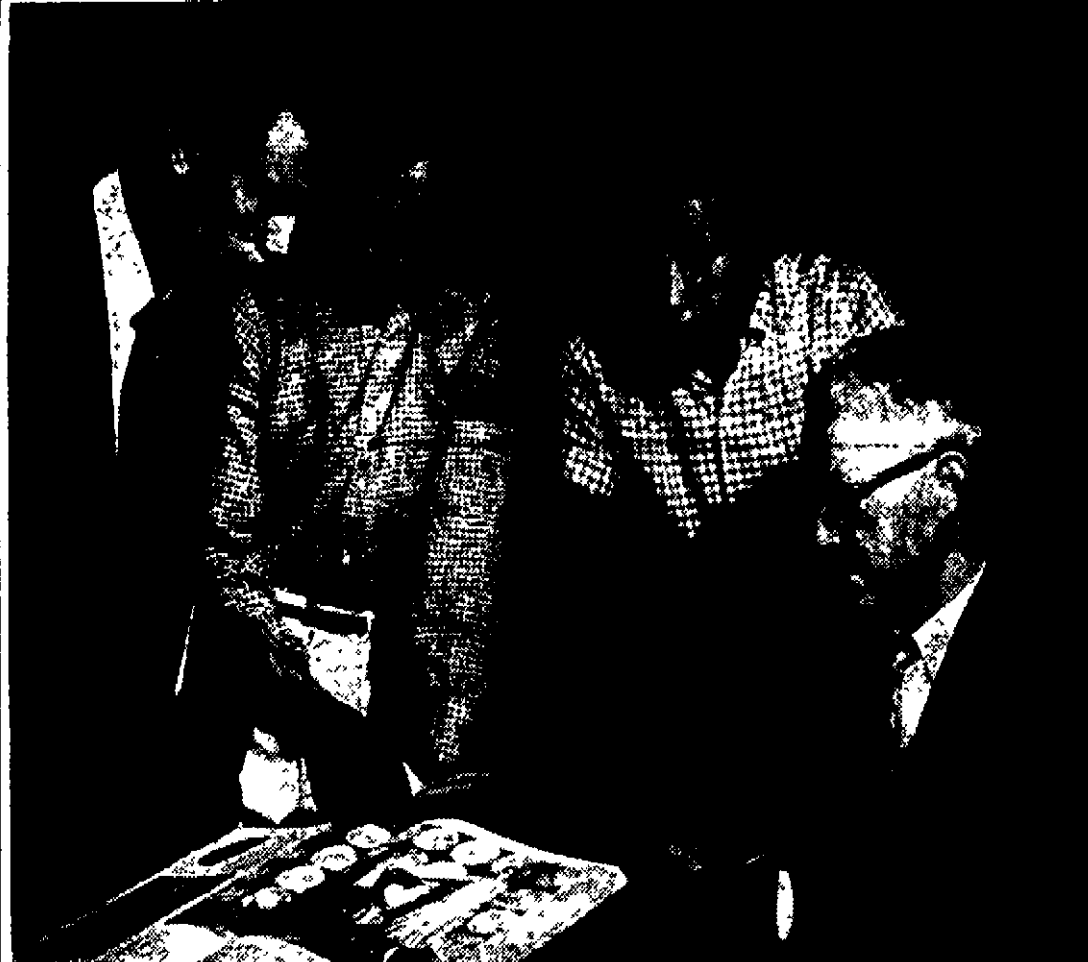

Directors are Mrs. M. P. Gaertner, Mrs. Hayward Biggers, Mrs. George Hrubceky, Armin Schroeder, Marvin Melick, the Rev. Arthur Tingley, Paul Dodge, Mrs. Ruth Falvey, Dr. J. P. Canavan, Jack Casper, Al Starck and William Herziger.

Breakin Nets Little at Plant

Neenah — A break-in and the theft of a number of nickels from an automatic candy machine was reported to Neenah police this morning.

Someone entered the Atlas Tag company plant, 600 S. Commercial street, sometime between Friday night and Sunday afternoon, Richard Schreiber, foreman, told police today. Entry was apparently gained through a window which cannot be locked.

The candy machine was apparently forced open with a screwdriver, police said. A pair of shears was taken from the first aid room. No candy was taken.

Librarians Preparing 5,000 Books for 4 Neenah Schools

Neenah — Librarians this week are preparing more than 5,000 books for distribution among the four branch children's libraries in Neenah schools.

Books will be sent to the four public schools farthest from the library building, Wilson, Hoover, McKinley and Taft. Youngsters from the other schools are planning regular visits to the library.

The books that are distributed to the school libraries are divided between educational topics, which teachers have requested on certain subjects, and recreational reading, or story books.

Youngsters at these schools, if they have library cards, will be permitted to withdraw books and take them home every week. The entire selection will be changed in January.

Others Visit Library

Boys and girls at the other three public elementary schools, and the sixth graders at the Kimberly Junior High school, will all visit the main library every two weeks. At these visits they will hear stories told by Mrs. Ruth Bredendick, children's librarian, and will be permitted to withdraw books from the remaining 15,000 or so in the library. Visits are all planned, but not on a definite schedule, for the parochial schools and the Winnebago Day school.

Two teams of librarians will visit the four branch libraries regularly to help youngsters select books they will enjoy. One team includes Mrs. Lloyd DuChaine and Mrs. Arnold Braun and the other includes Mrs. Ernest Schaefer and Miss Ruby Jersild.

The regular schedule of Saturday morning story hours will resume at 10 o'clock this Saturday morning at the children's library. These stories are intended for all Neenah youngsters aged 3 to 11.

K-C Industrial Wadding Salesmen To Hold Meeting

Neenah — Industrial wadding sales representatives of Kimberly-Clark corporation will open a 4-day national sales meeting at the company's sales promotion center here Tuesday.

Thirty-two field sales representatives, headed by District Managers D. L. Merritt of New York City, R. N. DeWildre of Chicago, W. A. Fell of Atlantic, Ga., and E. J. Keefe of San Francisco, Calif., will attend.

The conference schedule includes full-day discussions of 1958-59 programs for interior packaging, industrial wipers, plate processing towels and other products. The meeting will end Friday with a review of government sales programs.

Arthur Croxson, specialty products sales manager, and E. C. Burch, industrial wadding sales manager, are in charge of the meeting.

Reports Armed Chicken Thieves South of Neenah

Oshkosh — Armed chicken thieves were reported at the Kris Neilson farm on the Dixie road, just off Highway 41 in the town of Neenah, by two neighbor children, Ervin Klesmit, Jr., 13, and his sister, Betty Jane, 10.

The sheriff's office was called at 8:09 Saturday night. Two deputies found the Neilson home unlocked but could find no traces of anyone being there.

The two children said that earlier in the evening they saw four youths, about 17 and 18 years of age, standing by the Neilson chicken coop, one of them holding three chickens in his arm and the other three armed with two pistols and a shotgun.

The boy said the man holding the chickens ordered him to come to him but he ran home, the man chasing him. The youngster got an older brother and they started back toward the Neilson house. Three of the men were in the house, looking out the window at them, he said.

Mrs. Neilson said this morning that she doubted if any chickens were taken because the number of eggs they got today is the same as it has been for several weeks.

Lions To See Film

Neenah — The first fall meeting of the Neenah Lions club will feature a film, "DEW Line Story," telling of the Distant Early Warning defense installations in Alaska and Canada. The club will meet for dinner at 6:30 Tuesday night at the Valley Inn.

Five Contests On Winnebago Primary Ballot

as treasurer of the town of Winnebago.

Shurbert is chairman of the town of Algoma and is a retired Oshkosh businessman. This is his first race for assemblyman. As town chairman he is a member of the Winnebago county board.

Brandt is an Oshkosh State college graduate and with his brother and sister is engaged in poultry and cash crop farming in the town of Omro. He is president of the Picket cooperative, financial secretary of the Ohio Street Civic association of Oshkosh and a member of several co-operatives, farm groups and shipping associations. He served as Democratic party county chairman for two years and treasurer for two years.

Campbell, a member of the Winnebago village board, is station agent for the Milwaukee road at Winnebago. He is a lieutenant colonel in the army ready reserve with 36 years of service, 14 of which were with the national guard and in the China - Burma - India theater in World War II and in the Korean war. He is membership chairman of the county Democratic party and also is active in various veterans organizations.

The other Democratic contest for a legislative post is for state senator from the nineteenth district which includes Winnebago and Calumet counties. Seeking that nomination are Herbert G. Pitz and Stanley E. Dennin, both of Oshkosh.

On County Board Pitz, who is blind, operates a vending service and is a member of the Winnebago County board. He formerly was an Oshkosh alderman for eight years and has been active in organizations for the blind. He holds both a master's degree and a law degree from the University of Wisconsin. He formerly was county Democratic chairman.

Dennin is an Oshkosh attorney and received his law degree from the University of Wisconsin also.

Also on the Republican ticket is a contest for coroner in which Dr. G. A. Steele, holder of that office for 22 years, is being opposed by Arthur Miller, operator of an ambulance service since 1935.

Unopposed for the Republican nominations are William A. Drabheim for state senator, Harvey R. Abraham for first district assemblyman, Nell A. Hoffmann for county clerk, Earl E. # Zephyrs Beat Don Bosco, 9-0, In Initial Gridiron Contest

Victors Gain 14 First Downs;
Tom Balthazor Scores Touchdown

BY HERBERT VAN DRIEL
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Menasha — An experienced St. Mary "11" exhibited a strong defense and hard-charging running attack in defeating an inexperienced Milwaukee Don Bosco squad 9-0 at Butte des Morts field Saturday night. The game was the initial gridiron encounter for both squads.

Seven of the 11 Zephyr starters in a 12-0 loss to the Milwaukeeans last year were in the same position Saturday night but with a year of know-how behind them. Aided by a few non-vets, the Zephyr mainstays were able to hold the visitors to four first downs while picking up 14 of their own.

Outplaying Bosco throughout the game, St. Mary scored a safety late in the first quarter and then added seven more points on a touchdown and extra point by workhorse fullback Tom Balthazor with less than three minutes remaining in the game.

Tries Quick Kick

The safety came when Bosco's Joe Fons tried a quick kick from his end zone and the boot was blocked by Zephyr tackle Fran Voissem. Fons picked up the loose ball and was immediately tackled by Voissem and other Zephyrs.

Voissem also set up the Zephyr's TD in the final period when he threw his body in front of another Fons punt and the pigskin was recovered by Zephyr guard Jerry Resch on the Bosco 42.

The Zephyrs traveled the 42 yards to pay dirt in 11 running plays with Balthazor scampering the final three around right end. The big fullback lugged the leather 28 of the 42 yards on six dashes and also notched the extra point on a drop kick.

St. Mary had an opportunity to score early in the game when Bosco halfback Dan Bujanovich's fumble on the first play from scrimmage was gathered in by Zephyr halfback Norm Brown on the Bosco 29.

Pitches Strike

After three fruitless running plays, Zephyr quarterback Gary Batley pitched a strike to end Bob Vandenneuvel for a first down on the 18 yard line. Four running plays brought the ball to the 10, two yards short of a first down, and Don Bosco took over.

An exchange of punts gave the ball to Don Bosco on its own two yard line. After an incomplete pass and unsuccessful run, the Milwaukeeans tried a quick kick on third down which was converted into two points for the Zephyrs.

After the safety, Bosco kicked off to St. Mary and the Zephyrs proceeded to romp from their own 48 to the Bosco 16 in 11 plays. However, a Batley fumble on a handoff ended the TD drive.

The closest the Milwaukee team got to the Zephyrs goal was to the 30 late in the first half and to the 25 early in the third quarter. Only once were they able to put together two first downs in a row.

Scoring Drives

St. Mary's, on the other hand, had two or three drives going. The Zephyrs were on the Bosco 14 and knocking at the door late in the second quarter when a Batley pass was intercepted in the end zone.

With about a minute left to play the Zephyrs took over the ball on the Bosco 16. In two plays halfback Ed Lotzer scurried to the six and Brown to the one. A touchdown by Batley on the next play was nullified by a backfield-in-motion penalty. The game ended a play later with the Zephyrs on the three.

Zephyr Head Coach Vince Ste. Marie used 22 of the 33 players dressed and no one was reported injured. Don Bosco's starting quarterback Tom Sager left the game in the first half with a dislocated shoulder.

Of the 181 yards the Zephyrs gained by rushing, Balthazor accounted for 76, Brown, 40, and Lotzer, 43.

The lineups:

St. Mary's — Ends—Rechner, Vanden Heuvel, D. Resch. Tackles—Makofski, Voissem, Arndt. Guards—Hubb, Peterson, J. Resch, Myslinski, Theis. Center—Wiegand, Voss. Backs—Batley, Brown, Lotzer, Balthazor, Karsiny, Jensen, Becker, G. Walbrun, Sell.

13 Veterans Head Shawano High Gridders

Indians Launch Slate Against Merrill Eleven

Shawano — A squad of 50 candidates, including 13 lettermen, is holding practice at Shawano High school for the fast-approaching football schedule.

The Indians, coached for the second year by Joe Rounce, will open their schedule with a non-league test next Friday night at Merrill. Seven Mid-Eastern conference games will follow the non-leaguer.

Returning players Loren Rouse, Ren Kethenago and Roger Dodge, ends; Stan Saltzman, Bill Teetzel, Glen Seering, Mike Sakatok and Dave Beyer, interior linemen; and Guy Booth, Bill Krenger, Dick Frechette, Harley Lyons and "Chuck" La Marche, backs.

Lyons is expected to be the No. 1 quarterback. The regular on last season's Mid-Eastern conference basketball championship squad, completed 37 passes in 80 attempts last year. Kethenago was the leading receiver on the squad.

Another letterman of last year, Dan Ashenbrenner, didn't report while a second, Charles Collins, moved from the city. Both were linemen.

The biggest loss through graduation was John Cantwell, an all-conference choice on both offense and defense. Shawano posted a 2-5 conference mark last year after finishing with 1-6 in several previous seasons.

More Pin Loops Open '58-'59 Play

Menasha — A couple more Twin City bowling leagues will kick off their 1958-59 slates this evening.

The St. John Holy Name league will roll at 7 o'clock at Mid-Town and the Catholic Men's loop will open its Monday night schedule at Menasha Recreation. It began play Wednesday night.

Bowling at Lakewood this evening will be the Tri-City meet. Women's Major scratch circuit and the First Nitter Men's wheel.

Cancel Outboard Races at Fondy

Fond du Lac — Rough waters forced cancellation of Sunday's Region 7 outboard races here Sunday. No attempt will be made to make up the regatta, according to Bill Leutner, commodore of the Badger Outboard Racing association. Sponsor of the races were called off on July 4 because of an all-day rain.

Milliken Hits 601 Series in Couples Loop

Muench Posts 246; Mavis Charron in Top Women's Totals

Neenah — "Nubs" Milliken rifled a 601 series and Al Muench unloaded a 246 game to lead the way for men bowlers in the Mixed Cocktail Couples Bowling league Sunday night at Muench's.

Milliken included a 227 loner in his best series while Muench finished with a 581 count. He tied Claude Charron for runnerup set laurels. Charron notched a 221 line.

Women's honors went to Mavis Charron with a 521 threesome, including a 198 loner. Janet Halverson was two pins off Mrs. Charron's top game with a 196.

Tom Collins notched a 2-080 series, including lines of 581 and 601 for the peak team totals.

Old Fashions, Daiquiris and Tom Collins won three games. Pink Ladies took two, Mannhattans one and Stingers Martinis and Side Cars dropped three.

Earl Solomon totaled a 563 series, including a 204 game, to lead the way in the Automobile Mixed Couples circuit Sunday night. His total was the only one above 525.

Women's honors went to Shirley Solomon with her 479 series and Arlene Buss with a 181 singleton.

Chevrolets bowled 735-2,123 for the best team scores. Pontiacs and Chevrolets won three games. Other league teams are Jaguars, Oldsmobiles, Cadillacs, Fords, Ramblers, Packards, Plymouths and Studebakers.

Bowling Leagues Open Schedules at Winneconne Lanes

Winneconne — Two Winneconne bowling leagues will begin their schedules at the Fin 'n' Feather alleys this week.

Twelve teams will compete in the Businessmen's circuit which rolls at 7 and 9 o'clock tonight. Clarence Mueller is president; Rudy Roger, vice president, and Ray Mueller, secretary.

The Ladies league will open play Tuesday night and also roll on Wednesday. The women bowl at 7 o'clock each evening. Mildred Markert is president; Lee Tarala, vice president; Jean Abendroth, secretary, and Edna Kaul, treasurer.

Six teams will roll in the Thursday night league. A meeting will be held to complete plans for the circuit.

Six Couples Leagues To Begin Schedules

Menasha — Six mixed couples bowling leagues will open play at four Twin City alleys Sunday night.

The Bird league, a new circuit, will roll at 7 o'clock at Menasha Recreation and the KCA Couples loop bowls at 9 o'clock. The Atlantic Fish loop opens play Sunday at Mid-Town. The Automobile circuit will bowl at Muench's and the Baseball Mixed Doubles wheel sees action at 7 o'clock and Ball and Chain at 9 o'clock at Lakewood.

Elaine Hartfiel Tops All Bowlers In Couples Wheel

Menasha — Elaine Hartfiel pounded a 513 series and 199 game to lead both the women and men bowlers in the Atlantic Fish Mixed Couples Bowling league which opened its schedule Sunday night at Mid-Town.

The high men's efforts were a 498 series by Marv Poes and a 192 game by Jim Smith. Alyce Shutkoske had a 179 game for runnerup women's honors.

Monie Landsverk picked a game and 1,889 for three.

New Coach to Appear At Quarterback Club

Neenah — Coach Marlon Batterman will make his first appearance before the Neenah Quarterback club as the group opens its 1958 season at 7:30 tonight at the Whiting boathouse.

Batterman's assistants also will be on hand. Officers will be elected by the directors at a meeting prior to the general session.

6-10 split. Team honors went to the Poorfish with a 650 game and 1,889 for three.

Sellnow Clubs High 547 Series

Neenah — Wally Sellnow cracked a 57 series to lead bowlers in opening night action in the Ball and Chain Mixed Couples circuit Sunday night at Lakewood Lanes. His 198 game also was a league high.

Thursday Circuit Sets Open Date

Neenah — The Ladies Thursday Afternoon Bowling league will open its schedule at 4:45 Thursday afternoon, Sept. 1, at Muench's. Ethel Voss, league secretary, reported today.

Three Twin City Prep Clubs to See Action

8:15—Carton Miehle vs. Neenah Plant

Menasha — Industrial Relations bids for its seventh straight Marathon Softball league win and a share of the second round championship when it battles Neenah Plant at 7 o'clock tonight at Jefferson park.

Relations has six straight wins. A 7-0 record would assure it of a deadlock for the title since every other club has at least two setbacks. Neenah Plant has a 1-4 mark. Carton Press and Carton Miehle will get together at 5:30. Miehle has a 2-2 mark to 2-4 for the Press squad.

Miehle and Neenah Plant will vie in a makeup in the third contest at about 8:15. The game was called off on Aug. 11 because the diamond was in use for the Recreation department's all star games.

scheduled for a home game, meeting Appleton in the traditional non-conference opener at Butte des Morts field. The Bluejays played the heavily-favored Terrors to a 7-7 deadlock last year.

Fondy Rated High
Neenah will debut under Coach Marlon Batterman at Fond du Lac against a Cardinal eleven which is more highly-rated than any Fondy club in recent years. The Cards have a good nucleus of lettermen plus some fine freshmen.

Enthusiasm at Fond du Lac is higher than at any time in recent years and a "meet the team night" is scheduled Tuesday night when parents and fans will be invited to a practice session under the lights at Fruth field.

The Rockets, who will attempt to extend their winning string to 18 straight games, took a 7-0 triumph last year.

St. Mary bids for its second verdict Friday night in a non-conference fray at De Pere against East De Pere High school. The game will be played at Minahan stadium.

It will be the first meeting between the two squads since 1953 when they played to a 13-11 tie here. The game will open De Pere's schedule. Last year the Red Birds lost 7-0 to unbeaten Little Chute St. John in its only game against a Fox Valley Catholic conference foe.

The various varsity and freshmen squads aren't scheduled to open their campaign another week or two while the St. Mary and St. Patrick grade elevens begin Catholic Boy league competition next week.

Diver Sees Future Food Supply in Sea

Tokyo — Food for the world's growing millions? Look to the sea, says the man who has descended deeper into the mysterious world below the ocean waves than any other.

French Lt. Cmdr. Georges Houot, 45, recently completed a three-month assignment here to explore the virtually unknown Japan deep in his bathyscaphe — a submarine-like device with a bell-chamber suspended from it.

Before leaving Tokyo after finishing the project, Houot recalled at a news conference the richness of the "marine snow"—plankton — he found on the sea bottom here. Plankton is the minute animal and plant life which abounds in the sea.

"What about plankton bread?" he smilingly asked when questioned about the prospects of new food supplies. "I admit I much prefer beefsteak myself, but where else than in the sea will you find food for the 200 million annual increase in the world population?"

BY GEORGE SOKOLSKY

Nevertheless, Soviet and Nasser propaganda in the middle east has succeeded in building the impression, which is generally believed to be true, that imperialistic United States is the central problem of the era.

No Need for Truth
 "American-imperialism supports France in its dirty war in Algeria and works for its continuation so it will have an opportunity to seize French interests there. The United States, since the end of World war II, has opposed the people. Its weapon has been the traitorous imperialist associates and conspiracies. The U. S. aim was and continues to be the uprooting of the people's liberation movements, and domination of them by force in order to guarantee the sources of raw material and cheap labor. The aim of American imperialism was and continues to be dragging the world as it once was. The "Nautilus" has established beyond any

The fact that none of this is true does not affect the situation at all. Why need it be true to be believed? Man, in his long travail, has believed much that was not true. There used to be a blackmailer in Shanghai who would approach his victim with the statement "It has been said and it has not been denied. . ." And so we have been libelled throughout the world as imperialists!

Not Dependent on Oil
Another libel that is widespread is that our secretary of state, John Foster Dulles, wants to ignite a war in the middle east. Why should a meek Presbyterian like Dulles want to foment a war? The answer over the radio is:

"... He does not care for the people or for peace. What he wants is the oil, cheap raw materials, and cheap labor as well as the opening of markets to the American arms merchants — the merchants of destruction and death."

What will these people say when Europe moves from oil to atomic power, as Europe has moved from coal to oil? What would they say if automobiles ran on alcohol instead of gasoline? It is an easy conversion to make and would use up the surplus grain of the United States and Canada. If it is oil exploitation that alone stands in the way of a peaceful world, the Arabs may discover that the world is no longer as dependent upon oil as it once was. The "Nautilus" has established beyond any

If the Arabs make their oil unavailable or too expensive, no one needs to use it. Perhaps Nasser can drown in it. They might get some of their learned men to tell them what is going on in the world today.

It would do the Arabs good to listen to a broadcast from the "Voice of America" on why we do not need their oil and why it will not be long before Europe will not need their oil. As a matter of fact, these Arabs might be given some statistics to show how our own industry has been limited by reducing the allowable removal of oil from the ground

Need Facts of Life

In a word, these people need to be told a few facts of life. The Arabs have been a subject people for centuries, impoverished, hungry, suffering, sick, scrawny. In some of their countries, the exploitation of oil brought a measure of wealth to their rulers and states, some of which worked its way down to the people. This was not an Arab accomplishment. It was done by British, Americans, Dutch, etc., and Mr. Gulbenkian, the Armenian vice president.

It would do the Arabs no harm to remind them that although they have a long history and a great culture, what have they produced in recent years? Shall we go back to Avicenna (980-1037) and Averroes (1136-1198) to prove that the Arabs are cultured or shall we recognize that it was Great Britain that freed them from the Turks?

U. S. Can't Turn to UN in Quemoy Crisis

BY WALTER LIPPMANN

The offshore islands around Quemoy are, it would seem, pieces in an elaborate game which is being played for high political stakes. There is no reason to think the bombardment of Quemoy is part of a plan to invade and conquer Formosa. But there is good reason to think the red Chinese are striking in order to injure the prestige of Chiang Kai-shek, who has committed so many of his troops in the offshore islands, and at the same time to cause the United States to lose face before the people of Asia. The timing of the red Chinese action is, it seems to me, significant. The action is nicely calculated to come to a climax just about when the regular session of the general assembly meets this month in New York.

Push Dilemma

This, plus the fact that there appears to be no military build-up on the Chinese mainland for any large action, indicates the red Chinese, with Soviet blessing, are engaged in a political maneuver. If this maneuver succeeded entirely, it could unseat Chiang, it could oust the United States from Formosa, and it could bring red China into the U. N.

My own guess, which I cannot prove, is that Peiping and Moscow are pushing us into a dilemma. One fork is to stand by and to let some of the littler islands fall while Quemoy is battered and blocked. The other fork is for the United States to intervene to defend these islands and then to be denounced in the general assembly, where on the Chinese question there is a substantial majority against us.

This dilemma, which may be the objective of the communists, is at the same time the work of our friend, Gen. Chiang Kai-shek. It is he who has locked up such large forces in the island, it may be, against our own recent advice to disengage them. In any event, it has been Chiang who chose to stake his future in Formosa on a reckless gamble in the offshore islands.

Our people should note this fact, that when there was trouble in the Middle East, we turned to the United Nations to find the way out. But in the Chinese trouble, Dulles cannot turn to the United Nations. Indeed, he must avoid the United Nations. For in our Chinese policy, we stand very much alone.

Not only do we stand alone. In the game now being played, we have lost the initiative to Peiping. For Mao is free to go after the offshore islands in nibbles rather than in bites, doing just enough to make it embarrassing for the president not to defend the islands, doing not enough to justify an intervention which might mean war.

Election

County, Wis., Sept. 9, 1958

If You Change Your Mind, Turn UP a Voting Pointer and Turn DOWN Another for the Same Office.

As no votes are registered until the Red Handle is moved to open the curtain, you can make as many changes as you desire while the Red Handle is at the right side. The machine is so arranged that you can turn down only the proper number of voting pointers for each office; you cannot spoil your ballot by voting for too many candidates. Each candidate's voting pointer is located just above the name; a voting pointer must be turned down over the name of each candidate for whom you wish to vote. LEAVE VOTING POINTERS DOWN. No one will know how you have voted because the movement of the Red Handle to the left returns the voting pointers to the original position before the curtain begins to open.

General Strike Hits Venezuelan Capital

Labor Leaders Against Rebel Military Police; 20 Persons Dead, 200 Hurt in Street Fight

Caracas, Venezuela —(U)— A general strike closed down this troubled capital today in the wake of another military attempt to seize power from a government junta striving to restore democracy in Venezuela.

Union leaders threatened Larrazabal to continue the walkout until their demands — for disbanding rebellious military police and for disciplining some army officers — are met.

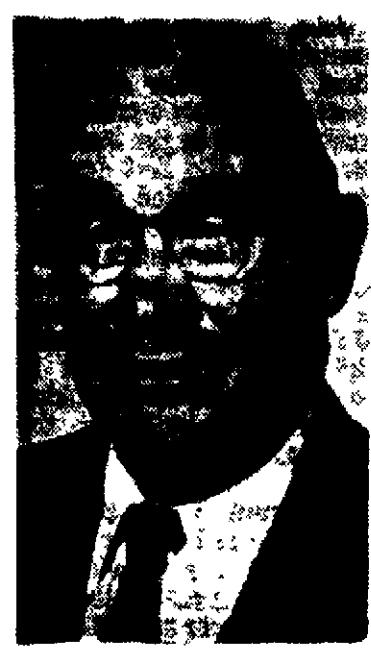

Eight hours of street fighting in downtown Caracas reportedly killed about 20 persons and left 200 wounded. Most of the casualties were said to be unarmed youngsters who played a major part in laying siege on the rebel headquarters downtown.

The government of Rear Adm. Wolfgang Larrazabal announced one leader of the coup was under arrest and three others were hiding out in the Mexican embassy.

Instead of allowing them to claim refuge in the embassy under standard South American practices, the government said it would ask for return of the insurgents as common criminals and refuse to let them leave the country.

Curfew Set
Larrazabal hurried back from a tour of eastern Venezuela and promised the plotters would be punished. Interior Minister Numa Quevedo backed him up and clamped down a curfew from 11 p.m. to 6 a.m.

After the first attempt to seize the government failed July 23, political leaders charged Larrazabal and Quevedo were not tough enough in following up to prevent further coups.

Both attempts involved discontented officers who lost much of their prestige and privileges in the January revolution which overthrew the military dictatorship of Gen. Marcos Perez Jimenez.

The government said yesterday's plot was led by military police personnel. The captured insurgent leader was identified as Lt. Col. Jose Hely Mendoza and those in the Mexican embassy as Lt. Col. Juan de Dios Moncada, Maj. Rafael Pacheco and Maj. Luis Alberto Vivas Ramirez.

Seize Radio Stations
The rebels seized Caracas radio stations before dawn and began broadcasting charges that the junta was a failure and high ranking officials were friends of Perez Jimenez.

Loyal officers regained control within minutes and broadcast calls for the people to support the government. Political leaders, union leaders and others joined in the appeals.

Crowds poured into the streets and the rebels opened fire from their stronghold in the military police barracks.

Civilians Act
The angry mobs seized buses, trucks and automobiles to build street barricades. Then they threw sticks, rocks and homemade gasoline bombs at the rebel headquarters and shouted support for Larrazabal and his government.

Civilian vigilantes charged the building with machetes and lead pipes, but they were beaten back by machine gun fire from inside. Then about 150 navy men charged the building. Rebel fire also forced them to retreat.

Scattered shots continued until mid-afternoon.

Finally a handful of grade school children climbed into the first and second floors of the rebel headquarters and found it deserted. Hundreds of other youngsters charged in and ransacked the building despite tear gas hurled by the loyal troops.

Gov. Leader Becomes Father Fourth Time

Harrisburg, Pa. —(U)— Gov. George M. Leader canceled several appearances today in his campaign for the U.S. senate to get acquainted with his fourth child — a 9-pound son.

Mrs. Leader, 39, gave birth to the boy Sunday after the governor drove her 20 miles from their summer house in Indiantown Gap.

Both the mother and child, named David Charles, were reported doing well. David was the first child in many years born to a Pennsylvania governor while in office.

Leader is 40.

The governor's other children are George Michael, Jr., 13; Fred, 9, and Jane Ellen, 4.

Maine Leads In Elections For Last Time

Today's Voting Centers on Race For U. S. Senate

Portland, Maine — (U)— Maine leads the rest of the country to the ballot box for the last time today in an election pivoting around a vital race for the U. S. Senate.

Republican Frederick G. Payne relied on his Washington experience and a sort of mutual assistance pact with President Eisenhower to fend off the challenge to his senate seat.

The challenger is Edmund S. Muskie, a popular 2-term governor and the best Democratic vote getter ever produced in the Pine Tree state.

Advance signs pointed to cool, sunny weather over most of the state and to a heavy, record vote, with plenty of split ballots. The present record in the senate race is 311,000 votes in 1938.

Polls opened as early as 6 o'clock this morning and the voting ends at 7 o'clock tonight.

May Be Tip-off

The outcome will help cut the campaign pattern for the congressional election in all the other states in November. The way Maine votes may supply the tip-off on the extent to which Democrats generally will raise questions about the rectitude and foreign policy of the Eisenhower administration.

But never again will national political attention focus on a September election in Maine. This is the last one. From now on, Maine will vote in November when the rest of the states do.

At stake today along with the senate seat are three in the U. S. House — two now held by Republicans and one by a Democrat — and the governorship Muskie is relinquishing.

The big interest is in the senate contest and an issue that has had some aspects of an iceberg, with most of it submerged beneath the surface.

Acknowledges Favors
Payne has acknowledged that he, as did Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams, received favors from Bernard Goldfine, the wealthy Boston industrialist who came under scrutiny of a house subcommittee and subsequently was cited for contempt of congress.

Muskie has kept silent on all this, on the assumption that voters can size up the facts for themselves.

The consensus of Maine political writers is that Muskie will take Payne's measure in today's balloting. If he does, Democrats around the country can be expected to draw a bead on Adams and his acceptance of Goldfine gifts.

The Democrats also might open up a heavier fire against the Eisenhower administration's foreign policy. Muskie has been telling the people of Maine that not enough has been done to win over uncommitted nations and that America's defenses aren't equal to meeting the communist threat. Payne has been pointing to the record — no shooting wars.

Payne's campaign strategists are forecasting a 50,000 lead for him in the county. Holland forces say they can win if they get no better than an even break here.

Results of the election will be watched closely over the nation for clues to trends in southern thinking.

Holland, dignified white-haired conservative, and Pepper, fiery champion of New Deal causes during Franklin D. Roosevelt's time, are political contrasts. Pepper is attempting a comeback after being sidelined by George Smathers in 1950.

Dade county, with almost one-fourth of the state's 1,359,610 registered Democratic voters, is the big plum in the U.S. senate battle. Both candidates are counting heavily on Dade in their hopes for victory.

Pope Urges Catholics in U. S. Airman Red China to Hold Firm Says Shooting Was Accident

Pontiff's Message Warns Against Communist Attempt to Split Church

Vatican City —(U)— Pope Pius XII has called on Catholics in communist China to hold firm in their faith against attacks by the communist regime.

The pontiff's message was contained in an encyclical letter dated June 29 and released today by the Vatican press office.

Vatican sources said the delay in making the document public probably was planned to give the Vatican time to get the message through secret channels to Catholic authorities in red China.

The pontiff's appeal warned against recent intensified efforts by communist authorities to split Roman Catholics in China from the Vatican and to set up a separate Chinese church.

Bishops Named
"For some time," said the 82-year-old head of the Roman Catholic church, "with insistent propaganda the so-called patriotic movement has been proclaiming the pretended right of Catholics to elect bishops by their own initiative."

The pontiff referred to recent actions in red China whereby bishops were named without reference to the authority of the Vatican.

The pope said the reason given for the election of such bishops was to "entrust the care of dioceses to pastors favored by the civil authorities because they did not oppose the ideology or politics of communism."

Rules Explicit
"In fact," said the pontiff, "we have learned that already there have been not a few such abusive elections and that, furthermore, against an explicit warning from this Apostolic see, it was dared even to confer Episcopal consecration upon some ecclesiastics."

"Before such a grave attempt against the discipline and unity of the church, it is our precise duty to remind all that the doctrine and principles that regulate the constitution of the society divinely founded by Jesus Christ our Lord are far different."

"The sacred canons, in fact, clearly and explicitly sanction that only the Apostolic see (the pope) has the right to judge on the qualifications of an ecclesiastic for the Episcopal mission and that it is up to the Roman pontiff freely to name the bishops."

Light Turnout Expected in Florida Vote

Miami, Fla. —(U)— Sen. Spessard Holland and Claude Pepper, poles apart in their political philosophies, beat busy paths through the vote-rich Miami area today on the eve of Florida's Democratic primary.

Holland
A relatively light turnout of 850,000 to 900,000 voters was forecast.

Two Captured, One Killed in Robbery Attempt

Miami, Fla. —(U)— Police surprised three men holding up a drug store, killed one and captured two others in a gun battle and hand-to-hand struggle.

Russell Lee Thomas, 28, died after the fight Sunday night. Patrolman H. C. Keil fired six shots into him as he grappled on the floor of the pharmacy with a disarmed policeman.

Lee Mizell, 27, and Edward Bernard Day, 23, surrendered. A fourth man, Henry Karl Evans, 25, apparently the driver of the getaway car, was caught four blocks away after he raced past a spotlight.

Police surprised Thomas and Mizell tying up the store manager in suburban Coconut Grove.

Thomas whirled, emptied the pistol without effect at the officers, then lunged at patroling nearby.

Man John Tomberlin, disarming him.

Keil fired as Tomberlin and the bandit struggled on the floor for Tomberlin's gun.

Japanese Man Dies After Bullet Hits Him While on Train

Tokyo —(U)— Memories of the bitter William Girard case were stirred today by the fatal shooting of a young Japanese music student aboard a train by an American airman.

As Japanese papers gave top display to the incident under big headlines, 19-year-old airman Peter E. Longpre of Lakewood, Calif., said: "It was a horrible accident. . . I am deeply sorry. . . I did not intend to shoot at anyone or anything."

Longpre was in tears and his statement was read by an attorney—described as a defense counsel—to a news conference called in an effort to avert the furor which turned the Girard case into an international incident.

The shooting occurred Sunday at Johnson Air base, 20 miles northwest of Tokyo.

Through Train Window Longpre said he was standing near the base entrance when he accidentally discharged his carbine without knowing it was loaded.

The bullet traveled about 30 yards, penetrated the window of a passing train and struck Sachiaki Miyamura, 22, in the back.

Miyamura, who was on his way to play in the band at the noncommissioned officers' club, died on an operating table at the base.

Longpre was held on an open charge of unlawful killing. The air force said the shooting is "still considered an accident and is still being investigated." A police spokesman said the Japanese investigation also was not complete and "nothing can be said for publication yet."

Col. Ray Vandiver, commander of Johnson Air base, appeared with Longpre at the news conference to express his "deepest personal and official regret to the family of the deceased and to the people of Japan."

Pilot Gives Upon Flight Around World

Bastia, Corsica —(U)— An American pilot attempting a round-the-world flight in a small plane decided today to give it up and fly home on a commercial airliner.

Capt. Charles F. Banfe, Jr., a 39-year-old Pan American World Airways pilot from Palo Alto, Calif., abandoned his try for a world record after his single engine plane crashlanded in a Corsican vineyard last night.

Banfe said the fuel line went wrong as he headed toward Rome for his first stop since taking off from Idlewild airport in New York at 10 a.m. (EDT) Saturday. He said he planned to repair the fuel line and fly the plane to Rome.

"But I won't fly back to the states aboard it," he said.

"I shall return to San Francisco by a commercial airline tomorrow night and leave my plane for repairs."

Banfe said the plane was not seriously damaged in the forced landing "except for a few holes in the wings." He said he flew for 20 hours over the Atlantic ocean "including 10 hours in ice, rain and snow."

Alice Graham Winters to Speak at Woman's Club

Guest day will feature a program given by Mrs. Alice Graham Winters, Oak Park, Ill., when the Appleton Woman's club meets at Worcester Art Center at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Her subject will be "Around the World in 52 Days". Mrs. Winters made her transcontinental trip during the last winter. Among the unusual places she visited was the jungle of Assam, India, where the people are only 70 years removed from head hunting.

Mrs. Winters will bring an exhibit of articles she collected on her trip. Mrs. O. R. Busch is program chairman.

The program will be followed by tea served by the executive board. Hostesses are

In Good Taste Explain to Hosts, Then Slip Away

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: How can I leave a party without breaking it up when 11 o'clock or 11:30 comes around and all the other guests seem to be in no hurry? People always seem to think they should leave soon after the first one makes the move.

Answer: For the very reason that you have given, the best way is to make your going as inconspicuous as possible. That is, you can explain to your host (or hostess) that you have to leave but don't want to break up the party, so please not to take any notice of your going. Then if you wait a few minutes, you can slip away without being noticed. If you go up to the hostess and shake hands and say good-night, certainly that will tend to break up the party.

Looks Niggardly

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is going to be married soon and we intend to have bouquets of flowers placed on the first five pews on both the bride and groom's side of the church. After the ceremony, would it be proper to have someone remove the bouquets from the pews and take them to the reception where they can be used for decoration, or must they be left in the church to be used on the altar?

Answer: To transfer the flowers from the church to decorate the reception would I am afraid, seem niggardly to anyone aware of this transfer.

Whom to Invite

Dear Mrs. Post: Shouldn't a wife always be invited when her husband is, unless it is a party just for the men or just for the women?

Answer: Correctly, yes. But it can be a business party or an organization party and still be a mixed group in which outsiders would have no place. However, such a party taking place on a holiday or in the evening after business hours should, if possible, include the wives, or husbands, of married members.

Pair Wed In Double Ring Rites

Christus Lutheran church, Clintonville, was the setting for the 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon wedding uniting Miss Delores Hansen and Robert Rosio, Jr., Milwaukee. The Rev. E.C.F. Stubbenvall officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Hansen, route 1, Bear Creek, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rosio, Milwaukee. The bride was given in marriage by her father. Organist was Miss Jean Dexter, Clintonville.

Miss Hansen chose her sister, Miss Rose Hansen, Bear Creek, as maid of honor, and Miss Joyce Hansen, Bear Creek, as bridesmaid. Charli Braun, Milwaukee, cousin of the bride, was flower girl.

Donald Rosio, Milwaukee, was best man for his brother. Fred Mermis, Lakewood, was the groomsman, and William Hansen, Bear Creek, brother of the bride, was ring bearer. Milton Rosio, Milwaukee, brother of the bridegroom, and Theodore Doehling, Bear Creek, uncle of the bride, were ushers.

Pleasant View ballroom was the site of a reception and dance held in the afternoon and evening.

After a 2-week honeymoon trip to Canada the newlyweds will make their home in Milwaukee, where the bridegroom is employed at the Downing Box company.

The bride is a graduate of Clintonville High school and her husband is a graduate of Wabeno High school. She is employed at the First Wisconsin National Bank, Milwaukee.

Miss America of 1959, Mary Ann Mobley, Brandon, Miss., poses happily with her court of four princesses who were runnersup in the annual pageant staged Saturday evening in the vast convention hall in Atlantic City, N. J. The runnersup are Miss North Carolina, Betty Lane Evans, Greenville; Miss Oklahoma, Anita Bryant, Tulsa; Miss Iowa, Joanne Lucille Mac Donald, Ames; and Miss California, Sandra Lee Jennings, Riverside.

Mississippi Belle Crowned Miss America for 1959

Atlantic City, N.J. — A winsome brunette who sings in a church choir and used to be "the biggest tomboy you've ever seen" today wears the crown of Miss America 1959. Mary Ann Mobley of Brandon, Miss., was resting up in a New York City hotel after a hectic week of competition in the oldest national beauty pageant in America.

The week ended in triumph for the 21-year-old college senior Saturday night when she was named the new Miss America before a capacity convention hall crowd of 17,000 and a nationwide television audience.

The five-foot-five southern belle, who has brown eyes and an olive complexion, burst into tears after she was crowned by the outgoing queen, Marilyn Van Derbur of Denver, Colo.

"It might sound trite, but I had no idea of winning—no idea at all," she later told newsmen. "I feel very inadequate. It's something I can't even comprehend."

Winning the title had a special significance for Mary Ann. She lost out last year as Mississippi's entrant in the pageant.

Begins New Reign
The new Miss America, who weighs 114 pounds and measures 34-22-35, began her reign by attending the coronation ball early yesterday morning. Her escorts were West Point cadets Victor Lett and Charles P. Ostott.

Two rather interested people never got to the ball. Mary Ann's mother and her attorney-stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. David Williams, were tied up answering long distance telephone calls from well wishers.

Mary Ann is studying speech and English at the University of Mississippi and hopes to become an actress. She plans to use the $10,000 she received as winner of the pageant toward that end.

In addition, the new Miss America receives about $140,000 in personal appearance fees and other prizes.

Mary Ann, who sings in the choir at Brandon Methodist church, readily admits that she wasn't always a beauty.

Pigtails and Braces
"I had pigtails until I was 8, and then I had scarlet fever and my hair fell out. I wore braces on my teeth for four years."

As for romance, the new Miss America said: "I've been lucky enough to date several nice young men, but I've never trapped any. I'm working on one though."

She declined to give his name. The girl who won second place in the pageant, Miss Iowa, Joanne Lucille Macdonald, 20, of Ames, belonged to Chi Omega, the same sorority as Mary Ann. Joanne received a $3,000 scholarship.

Third place went to Miss Oklahoma, Anita Bryant, 18, of Tulsa, who received a $2,500 scholarship.

Miss California, Sandra Lee Jennings, 18, of Riverside, got a $2,000 scholarship for placing fourth, and Miss North Carolina, Betty Lane Evans, 18, of Greenville, was fifth, receiving a $1,500 scholarship.

Your Problems

High-Class Woman Falls Hook, Line, Sinker for Old Male Lingo

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: I'm a high-class woman, 28, — divorced, and considered very attractive. Please understand that under ordinary circumstances I'd never have allowed myself to be picked up, but this particular evening it was raining very hard.

Ann Landers

I was on this street corner waiting for a bus when a good-looking man asked if I'd like a ride. Well, to make a long story short, we had dinner together at my place and stayed up almost all night talking. He knew a lot about Einstein, Shakespeare and classical music.

I fell for him awfully hard and was so certain this was the real thing, I let my heart run away with my head.

He promised to call me in a few days but he hasn't kept his word. It's been two weeks now and I can't understand it. Is it possible that something terrible happened?

LET DOWN
Dear Let Down: Something terrible happened all right. But it happened to you, not him.

I hate to knock the stars out of your eyes, Toots (did you say you were 28?) but this is how The Love Affair of the Century looked to him.

"He picked up a girl on a street corner. She invited him to her place for dinner and the evening. He gave her a moth-eaten line and she bought it hook, line and sinker. Period. His mission was accomplished on the first trip. Why should he come back?"

DEAR ANN: People who read your column every day get free lessons in life. I'd like to tell you my story in hopes that it may save some foolish man the bitter experience that I'm now going through.

I had a lovely wife and three nice children. Our home 18, of Greenville, was fifth, receiving a $1,500 scholarship.

ed with a girl who was young enough to be my daughter. She wrapped me around her little finger and made me feel like 21 again. My wife refused to live with me when she found out and we were divorced.

The court gave my wife everything, — the house, most of my assets and I was ordered to pay support money for the children. When the girl saw she wasn't going to get much she changed her mind and ditched me for a younger fellow.

My former wife married a fine man recently and I hear she's very happy. My children won't have anything to do with me. I developed asthma and heart trouble and am now a patient in a veteran's hospital. On visiting days no one comes to see me.

I gave up everything for a no-good tramp who ran out at the first sign of trouble. I've lost the love and respect of the only people who meant anything to me.

Please print this if you can. It may open a few eyes here and there. — HAD IT COMING

DEAR ANN: Tell me if I'm wrong. I'm getting married in October. I asked my older sister (who is married) to be a bridesmaid.

She went ahead and picked out the pattern for the dresses by herself. No one said anything because the pattern was nice. Now she refuses to wear taffeta which is my choice. Also she doesn't like the color I selected for her and refuses to have her shoes dyed to match her dress.

She will not accept my idea for a headpiece and threatens to wear last year's Easter hat. There's been so much trouble on account of her that it's spoiling the fun of planning the wedding. What shall I do? — M.U.P.

Your sister is out of her orbit. The decisions which she has taken upon herself belong to you. Tell her what you want, and if she doesn't cooperate replace her in the line-up. A married woman should not be a bridesmaid anyway.

Culbertson on Bridge

South scored a victory in the following deal, not because his bidding was more accurate than that of the opponents, but because his philosophy of bidding was sounder than theirs.

The bidding (rubber bridge):
South West North East
Pass Pass Pass 3 D
3 H 4 D 4 H 5 D
Pass Pass D'ble Pass
5 H D'ble (final call)

It is certainly unusual, and rarely logical, for a side that has passed originally to get up to the five-level, but there was considerable wisdom in South's bidding technique. Granted, he took quite a chance when he overcalled three diamonds with three hearts (and he later admitted he shuddered inwardly as he made that bid), but once he had crossed that Rubicon and had not only escaped a double but had been raised by his partner, the situation took on an entirely different complexion.

South passed over East's five-diamond bid because he was hoping that North would double that bid and thereby discourage the enemy from going any further, either as a sacrifice against hearts or as a voluntary slam try. South had no idea whether or not the five-diamond contract could be beaten (to say nothing about six diamonds), but he did know that his own hand had the most anemic defensive values and that his three-heart bid might have misled North in that respect. Actually, with such concentration of strength in the heart suit, North made a peculiar decision when he doubled five diamonds instead of bidding five hearts, but his action turned out very well indeed since South could now go ahead with his intention to take out the double if North made it.

South had no trouble in collecting 11 tricks, for a handsome score, whereas it should be noted that East could have made, not just five, but six diamonds. The moral is: When no one can be sure about what's going on, it's usually wise to bid a little more, for "insurance."

New Slant on a Window Problem

There had to be a new slant on handling fierce sun rays through slanting windows, and here it is. The best-of-all light from above can come into the room, then, when it's too strong, it can be shut out with reliable cloth shades that fit snugly to the roof line, and are hung to pull up from the bottom instead of down from the top.

Four shades are used on the windows. The upper two are cut and hemmed to follow the roof angle and set with their rollers below. The lower two take their rollers at the top as usual. Textured cloth for the shades, with practical vinyl coating, blends well with textured fabric for the curtains.

Mrs. B. G. "The carpet in our present living room is too wide, but not long enough for the living room of the house we're to move into. My husband says we shouldn't cut off more of the carpet than the strip that would fit it into the room wall to wall, but I think we should cut a wider strip to leave the same margin of floor showing all the way around. This would mean cutting off 18 inches more to leave nine inches on each side, as the carpet is 18 inches short the long way. What do you think? The floor is good and I prefer the carpet unattached so it can be removed for cleaning."

Unattached carpet looks better when it does not touch the baseboard, and a margin of floor all around is more pleasing than at the ends of the room only. However, you might save a six-inch strip. A six-inch margin at the sides is in good proportion to a nine-inch margin at the ends unless the room is very small.

Mrs. M. W. W. "Please tell me what color to paint the walls of a bedroom that will have green carpet, gold bedspreads and dark walnut furniture, and a slipper chair upholstered in a strawberry color. The walls are now green that goes with the carpet, but it's such an uninteresting shade."

White would be striking background for the other colors. A dull tint of the gold would complete a softer scheme.

Amelia Eden, Niece of the former British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden, sits in an automobile with her new husband, Giovanni Borelli, after their marriage in Cacamicciola, on the Italian island of Ischia. The bridegroom, a ferryboat mechanic, is 30 years old and his society-bred bride is 25.

Eden's Niece, Mechanic are Wed in Italy

Naples, Italy.—Sir Anthony Eden's niece is now Mrs. Giovanni Borelli, wife of an Italian ferryboat mechanic.

Amerlia Eden, 25, radiant in a white wedding gown and flowing veil, was married yesterday in the Roman Catholic church of Sant'Antonio, on Borrelli's home island of Ischia.

The bride's mother came from Britain for the ceremony and her brother, John, a member of parliament, gave her away. Her father, Sir Timothy Eden, had expressed some misgivings about the match and stayed home.

Borrelli's family, with whom the couple will live, also were on hand in the packed church.

Most of the island population turned out to cheer the 30-year-old boatman and his bride, who met two years ago while the Mayfair society girl was vacationing on Ischia. The couple spent last night in Naples and were to leave today on a wedding trip to Rome and Florence.

New Help For Women Who Must Undergo Breast Surgery!

Each year more than 50,000 women in the U. S. alone are faced with the problem of how to look and feel normal after the removal of a breast. For many this has been a serious problem and the sooner they can resume their normal interests and activities, the happier and healthier they become.

Now help is available in a new scientifically designed breast pad form that appears to be the answer to both the patient and the doctor's requirements. Thanks to a leading X-ray technician, an incredibly life-like form with a fluid motion and balanced weight presents the first basically sound approach to flawless compensation after radical breast surgery.

Made with a skin-like plastic film, they are filled with a liquid which not only equalizes weight but also molds to conform to shape of a well-fitting brassiere. There is no pinning, no adjusting and they never ride up.

Called "Identical Forms", they're the boon to women in this condition and are sold and fitted by Gloucemans Dept. Store in Appleton the exclusive distributor there. A wide range of sizes makes it possible to fit every type figure.

Voice Tones Indicate One's True Feelings

BY ANGELO PATRI
The tone of voice one uses has much to do with its effect on the hearers. It betrays words when they are not sincere. Children have acute hearing, so they hear the irritation in the tone of voice when it is trying to be sweetly patient and it disturbs them. They are not deceived by gentle-meaning words when they are uttered to screen anger or dislike.

Miss Patricia Nordling, Miss Massachusetts, who competed for the Miss America 1959 crown, holds a silver penguin sent her by the 109 men in the Antarctic who voted her Miss Little America. The 82 navy personnel, 23 United States IGY observers and four foreign scientists who are in semi-isolation in the Antarctic in connection with the International Geophysical Year made their selection from the 52 unmarked pictures of the Miss America contestants.

kind, understanding when a child has been behaving badly it is best to be quiet until every trace of anger has passed. Then speak.
There are times however, when the voice must carry authority, even anger. When an adolescent boy or girl deliberately disobeys, deliberately defies authority and makes a mess of things for himself and others, anger is in order and he should feel the weight of it. The tone of voice used at this time is clear, forceful and authoritative. It must be so, if it is to impress the culprit.

No Need to Shout
There is no need to shout or to use bad language. Let the tone carry the voice of authority. Bad language robs the speaker of authority because it is an indication the futile gesture of one who feels defeated. That is fatal to leadership and to authority.

The teacher's voice is his most useful tool. It is the force that controls his class. If the tone is loud it indicates poor control and then it's good-bye to the control of the class. If it is strident it irritates and wears the class and it becomes restless and unheeding. Disorder follows and work suffers. A well controlled, pleasant tone that indicates strong reserves is what makes all the difference between success and failure in the classroom.

The same thing holds in the home where the mother presides all day. When she keeps talking, telling the same thing to the same child over and over without result, her voice rising higher and higher until at last she is screaming, there will be no peace in the house. The children, accustomed to the steady noise of that voice go their unguided way. The result is sad for the whole household.

Set Meeting to Form Consumer Credit Group

A meeting of persons interested in organizing an Appleton Retail Credit association will be sponsored by the credit committee of the chamber of commerce at 5:30 Monday evening, Sept. 22 at the Con-way hotel.

A committee, headed by Eli Jandrin with T. J. Hartjes and Edward Adams, was appointed to make recommendations for formation of a consumer credit organization.

Officer Hurt in 2-Car Collision

County Traffic Patrolman Calvin Spice was injured in a traffic accident on N. Richmond street about 1:35 this morning as he pursued a speeding car.

Spice and two other patrolmen were chasing the car, driven by Russell G. Schreiber, 20, 958 Higgins street, Neenah. Schreiber stopped the car in the middle of the street and the police car collided with it. The accident caused $450 damage to both cars. Spice received cuts and bruises.

Police said they chased Schreiber when they saw him turn south on Richmond street from Highway 41, leaving skid marks. They said the chase was made at speeds up to 75 miles per hour.

After Schreiber was taken to the county jail, an unnamed companion locked himself in the car and refused to come out, police reported. Police returned Schreiber to his car and he opened the door.

Schreiber was charged with reckless driving and failure to yield the right-of-way.

Family Injured In Accident

A Milwaukee man and his family were injured Friday night when their car was struck by a truck trailer on Highway 45, near Greenville.

Roland L. Marcianak, 28, his wife and two daughters received cuts and bruises when the trailer hit the car. The auto received an estimated $815 in damage.

Marcianak said the accident occurred when the trailer swung into his lane of traffic as the truck rounded a curve.

All of the injured were taken to St. Elizabeth hospital by Lindy's ambulance.

Board Approves Bridge Bonds Sale

County Share of $1.8 Million College-to-Candee Project Set

Outagamie county supervisors today approved selling $500,000 in highway bonds for $482,550 to finance the county's share of the College-to-Candee high level bridge.

The bonds will be delivered the week of Sept. 22, it was indicated.

The $17,450 discount will raise the net interest rate on the 20-year bonds to 3.323 per cent. The bonds, in $1,000 denominations, carry 3 per cent interest coupons. The county's share of the bridge cost—estimated at $1.8 million—will be about $600,000. The $117,450 needed to make up the total over the bond issue probably will be taken from a $115,000 matured Golden Age home bond issue and the contingency fund.

No Bids Received
Corporation Counsel Raymond Dohr explained to the board that the county received no bids for the $500,000 bond issue, but three prospective buyers attended the Friday sale. The county, faced with no bidders, decided to sell the bonds at a private sale, he said.

The three bidders entered prices of $480,700, $480,675 and the high bid of $482,550 by a 3-firm syndicate of Halsey, Stuart and Company, Inc., Rodman and Renshaw and Burns, Corbett and Pickard, Inc.

Dohr explained that the county had a choice after no bids were received of starting all over and printing bonds with a maximum interest of about 5 per cent and let bidders bid on interest rates, selling the bonds at a private sale or taking the money from surplus funds. If the bonds were destroyed and a new issue printed, the county would lose the $200 cost of the bonds plus the time needed for a new issue, he explained.

City Hires Firm To Install Oneida Sewer Laterals

Installation of sewer and water laterals on N. Oneida street between Lindbergh street and Highway 41 will be done partly by a city contractor and partly by a private contractor, Director of Public Works Edwin J. Duszynski said today.

The low bid of $24 a foot was rejected as too high at last Wednesday's city council meeting and permission was given to hire a contractor on a time and material basis. The work done by the contractor hired by the city will be charged against the property owners, Duszynski said.

Charles A. Green and Son have been hired to do the portion to be put in by the city and Paul Gresi has been hired by some of the property owners.

Work on readying the street for paving probably will begin later in the week, Duszynski said.

Paving of the alley between W. College avenue and W. Lawrence street west of S. Superior street began this morning.

Grading and graveling of N. Appleton street north of W. Marquette street will be completed and the street opened Thursday. This will enable cars to get to the Northgate shopping center while N. Oneida is closed for paving.

Burglars Try Theft at Implement Company

The Van Zealand Implement company, Kaukauna, was broken into sometime over the weekend, Sheriff Donald Heinritz said today.

The thieves apparently cut their hands breaking open a window, Lt. Jack Zuelzke stated. The thieves left when cost boost boiled down to a de-

County Surplus

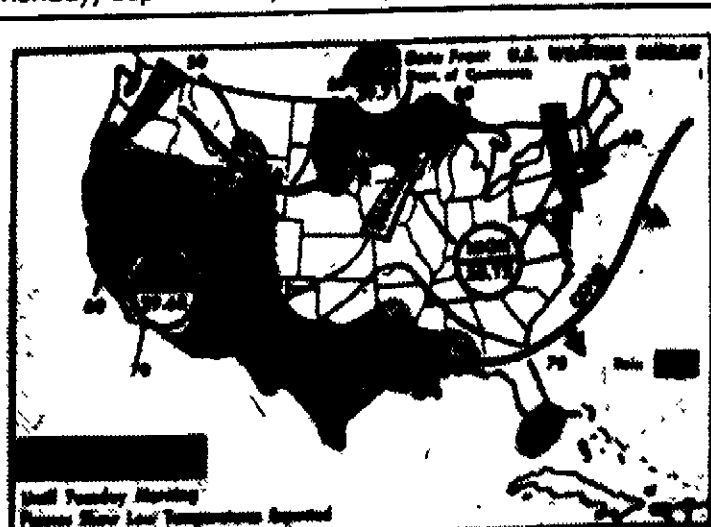

Board Chairman Alvin Fulcer, commenting on taking $600,000 from county surplus funds, pointed out the county would have to repay money taken from the insurance fund (now totaling about $315,000) and the repayments would go on the general current budget which in turn would be passed on to municipalities in higher levies.

The county's contingency fund is about $422,000, and Fulcer warned the board this money may be needed for the proposed University of Wisconsin extension center building, the airport improvements and a proposed child guidance center.

The total county surplus or relatively liquid assets, including the insurance fund, totals $852,000. Fulcer said the county probably will have about $200,000 left from the Outagamie County hospital building bond issue when the structure is completed next year. This would raise the total surplus and liquid funds to over $1 million, although it has been the board's habit to take about $100,000 from the contingency fund each year to lower the tax levy.

Commenting on the net interest rate of 3.323 per cent on the bridge bonds, Dohr said it was the highest rate ever paid by the county. Other issues have ranged from slightly under 2 per cent to the hospital bond rate of 2.68 per cent, he said. Explanations given for the interest stated. The thieves left when cost boost boiled down to a depressed municipal bond market, he added.

Showers are Forecast Tonight for the gulf states, Texas, the Rockies, southern and central plateau, California, Oregon, western lakes, the upper Mississippi valley and southern Florida. It may be cooler in the northern Atlantic states and northern Pacific coast area. Warmer temperatures are expected in the central and upper Mississippi valley.

Sharp Fall Temperature Pays Visit

Fall weather settled down in the state with some of the coolest weather of the season being recorded during the night.

Grantsburg reported a chilly 35 during the night and Park Falls and Phillips had 39 while Eau Claire, Superior and Wisconsin Rapids reported 40s.

In the Fox Cities the overnight low was a reasonable 50 after a pleasant high of 71 for Sunday.

The only rain reported in the state for the 24-hour period ending at 7 o'clock this morning was recorded at Green Bay where a sprinkling fell. The forecasters see a return of showery weather for Tuesday.

Maximum temperatures Sunday were in the 60s and 70s with Hales Corners' 77 topping the record. Phillips and Superior were the coolest spots with 67s.

Refugee Denies Burglary Count; Trial Set Oct. 9

Henrick Mueller, 27, Billingham, Wash., pleaded innocent in municipal court this morning of burglary. Judge Oscar Schmege set trial for Oct. 9.

Mueller and a companion, Tibor Toka, 26, no permanent address, are charged with taking $403.50 worth of assorted articles from the William Schuh home on Bluemound drive last Nov. 5.

Both men are Hungarian refugees. Mueller was arrested in Seattle and returned to Appleton by Sheriff Donald Heinritz. Toka was arrested in Danville, Ill., and returned to Appleton last weekend by Lt. Jack Zuelzke and Heinritz.

Toka will make a plea Wednesday. The men are held in the Outagamie county jail.

Burglars Try Theft at Mill

Giles Courtney, a partner of J. B. Courtney and company woolen mill, 301 E. Water street, told police Sunday someone had tried to break open the mill's safe.

He said the handle, hinges and dial were broken off the safe, apparently sometime Saturday night. The safe was unopened.

Police said the burglar gained entry by kicking in a board over a boiler room window.

Teaches Two Years, Finds No Army 'Brats'

BY BETTY KILICH
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

After two years of teaching in an army center in Germany, Miss Patricia Dewey is back behind her desk in an Appleton classroom but still dreams of going back some day.

Now presiding over nearly 30 primary youngsters at McKinley school, the tall, slender, dark-haired and attractive young teacher looks back on her years in Europe with a touch of longing and talks eagerly of her experiences there.

Miss Dewey spent three years with the Appleton public school system before she got her exciting news — acceptance for an overseas teaching post. And, although her contract was for one year only, she decided to sign up for another after her first 12 months.

After applications and interviews were screened, she was notified in June, 1956, she had been accepted and was on her way to Europe in August. By the beginning of the school term she was settled in the Seventh army tank training center in Vilseck, about 50 miles from Nuremberg.

No 'Brats'
"I had many misgivings before that school term started," she readily admits. "I was expecting a room full of those army 'brats' you hear so much about and I thought the teaching system might be more authoritative than we're accustomed to here in Appleton."

"Well, I didn't run into any of those 'brats.' The children were much the same as they are here. The only difference was the youngsters of army parents probably were a little more cosmopolitan — they'd traveled around a lot, many of them had been in the east as well as in Europe and they'd been in many places students here see only in geography books. But that's the only difference."

"As for teaching methods — they weren't much different than those we use here. The army sets up a broad curriculum but we had a large amount of freedom in its application. It's a good system."

Five Districts

The army divides Germany into five school districts, she points out, with a superintendent for each district but one central headquarters. Her first school was an old building but that soon was abandoned for a new school near a housing development.

It was one of the smaller schools, Miss Dewey notes, with 100 students, 4 teachers and several combination grades. She taught a combination one and two.

There was no attempt to support a high school on the base, she goes on, and all high school students were sent to an army school in Nuremberg. "It was like going away to college for those kids. They lived in a dormitory during the week and came back to Vilseck for weekends."

One requirement differentiating the system from American schools, however, was that each student in Germany had to learn the German language. A native of Germany visited schools each day to teach songs, games and conversation in German and it wasn't long before primary-age children were telling their mothers the German words for articles they purchased, she notes.

Culture Exchange
An inter-change of cultures was effected when German and American classes visited each other, Miss Dewey continues, and the Girl Scouts sometimes held exchange programs.

On an adult level, German-American relations were welded, at least for the women, through the German-American Women's club of which she was secretary. "We had a double set of officers, one set German and one set American and held double meetings — first we read the minutes in one language and then in the other. We took turns in giving programs and at Christmas, the German women entertained us with a real old-fashioned

Now Back at Her Desk at McKinley school, Miss Patricia Dewey has returned from a 2-year teaching stint at an army base in Germany. She was stationed in Vilseck where she taught combined grades one and two in a 100-student elementary school.

German Christmas celebration.

Extensive traveling, too, was on her 2-year agenda and the enthusiastic teacher managed to take trips to England, the Scandinavian countries, France, Austria, Switzerland and Italy during weekends and vacation periods.

She went back to Italy twice after her initial venture there "and that was the best — to get acquainted with the place after the first visit and then be able to travel on your own."

Army Respect

Miss Dewey also visited the Brussels fair where the American exhibit, she thought, was outstanding. "We hear so much controversy about the U.S. display here but I thought it was excellent," she emphasizes.

"It was a good portrayal of the American way of life. It didn't stress technology and scientific progress as many of the other countries did but it gave a good portrait of the United States and life here."

But perhaps one of the most important things she came back with, the teacher smiles, is "a good, healthy respect for the U.S. army."

"When we first got over there and saw all the army men walking around in camouflage outfits, we tended to poke fun at them."

"But we changed our attitude. We were only 17 miles but respect for the army from the Czech border and we now."

Lumber Companies Request Street, Storm Sewer Work

Fraser Lumber company, 501 N. Superior street, has requested installation of a storm sewer for the intersection of N. Superior and W. Packard streets.

In a letter to the city council, D. J. Hovde, company president, said flooding of the intersection during substantial rains causes water to enter the company's basement and damages merchandise.

ABC Lumber and Supply company, 1825 N. Richmond street, wants the city to grade and gravel W. Taylor street from N. Bennett street, 125 feet west. The company offered to pay for the work.

Both requests will be presented to the council at its Sept. 17 meeting.

Miss Gibson, Cooper Win Tennis Titles

Althea Comes Back After Losing 1st Set to Darlene Hard

Forest Hills, N.Y. —(AP)— Althea Gibson may or may not return to tennis, but one thing was certain today—she had taken her place among the all-time women's greats of the game.

That's just what she wanted. Since the tall New Yorker ascended the throne as queen of all she surveyed, there have been whisperings that she left something to be desired.

Among the accusations was that she wilted when the going got tough. It couldn't have been any to u g h e r Sunday when she came back to win the national championship for the second straight year by defeating Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., 3-6, 6-1, 6-2.

First Since Maureen She couldn't do a thing right in the first set. But she wound up crushing the plump blond Pomona college freshman.

She is the first player to win for two successive seasons at both Wimbledon and Forest Hills since Maureen Connolly turned the trick in 1952-53.

Ashley Cooper won the men's title when he whipped his Australian Davis cup teammate Mal Anderson, 6-2, 3-6, 4-6, 10-8, 8-6.

"Coop" had a rough time and was down, 5-4, in the tenth game of the final set on Anderson's service. But he broke at love, then went ahead.

In the twelfth game, he took a spill and twisted his ankle. For a few minutes he thought he might have to default. But he kept going and won it. That reversed last year's result.

"I'm tired," said the 31-year-old Miss Gibson, "really tired. I won't play any more competitive tennis for another year."

She said she would concentrate on her singing career. She also scoffed at reports she was in hot water with the U.S. Lawn Tennis association on the question of her amateur standings.

"It's absolutely ridiculous," she said. "Why, everything I do is cleared in writing with the USLTA before I do it."

Three-1 Playoff Opens Tonight

Cedar Rapids Tips Davenport in Finale Of Regular Season

Davenport and Cedar Rapids, each a winner of a half-season Three-1 league title, open a 5-game series tonight at Davenport to determine the loop's season champion.

Cedar Rapids would have to be the favorite on the basis of its play in the last week or so. The Raiders beat the Dav-Sox again Sunday, 10-9, as the league's regular season ended.

That boosted Cedar Rapids' overall record to 77-53, good for a 51-game edge over the Dav-Sox, who finished at 71-58.

Larry Click and Bob Taylor each hit a pair of homers, with outfielder Joe Trenary picking up the victory after relieving in the seventh.

The league knockout title went to Winona's Stan Horvatin, who fanned eight for a season total of 210 in a 10-2 conquest of Burlington. Horvatin had a 12-14 won-lost record.

Bays' Convincing Win Makes McLean's Cutting Job Tough

Packers Rally To Rack Up Giants, 41-20

Boston —(AP)— Green Bay's brilliant 41-20 exhibition triumph over New York here Saturday night has made it tougher for the Packers' coach to trim their team to the National Football league limit of 35.

"Everyone really showed what he had," said Head Coach Ray McLean.

McLean was interviewed Sunday before he departed for Greensboro, N. C., where the Packers meet the Washington Redskins in an exhibition next Saturday night.

Intercept 3 Passes. The Packers trailed, 20-13, at the half, but they scored three touchdowns following interception of three of the Giants' four passes in the third quarter. That fourth pass, by the way, was completed for a minus two yards.

"I was especially impressed with the way we came back in the second half," said McLean. The coach said, "It was good to see our offense take charge after alert defensive plays."

He said, "Our offensive line handled a heavy Giant defensive bunch very well. Our quarterbacks had ample time to throw."

The Packers' rally started when Alton Romine from Florence (Ala.) State stole a pass from Giant quarterback Don Heinrich and returned it 12 yards from midfield.

Quarterback Bart Starr hit end Max McGee on a 23-yard pass, setting up a five-yard scoring run by fullback Howie Ferguson.

Bob Dillon stole another Heinrich pass on the Giants' 41-yard line.

Johnny Longden Breaks Leg Again

Del Mar, Calif. —(AP)— Johnny Longden, turfdom's winningest jockey, isn't thinking of retiring even though his right leg has been broken for the second time in 13 months.

The latest injury occurred when the veteran rider was thrown against a rail as his mount collapsed and died during a morning workout at Del Mar race track Sunday.

Asked about the future after the leg was placed in a cast that extended up to his shoulder, Longden said: "I don't think this will stop me. I feel pretty good."

Mac's Square Playoff Series Behind Gries

LC-K's Mehlberg Bows, 5-3, in Pitching Duel

BY JIM HARP
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Little Chute — The Menasha Macs evened the Fox River Valley league playoff series by copping a 5-3 victory from Little Chute — Kimberly here Sunday afternoon.

The victory set the stage for the championship tilt next Sunday. The game will be at the Chuter park since attendance was higher than at the Mac park last week. A total of 493 paid customers watched the contest.

Gene Gries bested Faye Mehlberg, a surprise starter, in a tight duel. Gries was touched for seven hits by the Papermakers while Mehlberg allowed only five. However, the Macs bunched three of the bingles in the fourth frame when they counted three runs.

Lost in Sun. Gries batted in the winning run himself with a bloop single in the sixth. Rog Vander Wyl, LC-K center fielder was under the ball and then lost it in the sun. The hit allowed John Chapleau to score 1371, Cuba, 10.

Braves Lead By 7 1/2 With 16 Games Left

Split With Bucs As Spahn Hurls 5-Hit, 3-1 Win

By The Associated Press
The 10 telling days are over for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

But if the Bucs missed a storybook finish in that span, they did no less than stamp themselves baseball's surprise team of 1958 and make Danny Murtaugh a top choice as the National league "Manager of the Year."

In a 10-day showdown, the Pirates faced their final seven games with the first place Milwaukee Braves. They trailed by 7 1/2 games when it started, lost two of three at Milwaukee and were third, 9 1/2 games back, going into the final four at Pittsburgh Friday night.

11-11 Standoff
They came out with a 3-1 edge in the series, holding the world champions to an 11-11 standoff for the season with a doubleheader split in the finale Sunday. They won, 4-1, after Warren "The Wonder" Spahn had taken the opener, 3-1, for the Braves, his nineteenth victory.

It was the last chance anybody had of catching the Braves, who lead by 7 1/2 with 16 games to play. But the Pirates, who have finished last or next to last for the last eight years, went a long way toward nailing down second place taking a 2-game lead over third place San Francisco.

Spahn's 243rd victory in the majors put him within one of his ninth 20-victory season—a record for southpaws in the big time.

Spahn battled in a tie with Ron Kline (12-14) until Wes Covington, who singled home a run in the first, rapped a 2-run double in the eighth.

Vern Law (12-11) then blanked the Braves, who chopped their magic number to 10, on four hits before needing relief in the nightcap.

Foxes Topple LC-K In Exhibition, 7-3

The Fox Cities Foxes defeated the Little Chute-Kimberly Papermakers in an exhibition game, 7-3, Sunday night at Goodland field before 500 fans.

Gary Mitchell pitched hitless ball during the first four innings for the Foxes, striking out five of the first six batters he faced. Ernie Stinsa three of their runs off Stinsa and Earl Furlow finished up in the sixth on Floyd Hamer for the winners. Stinsa taking men's double, Jim Nirschel over in the fifth.

Foxes Score 3
Al Harke pitched the first Gene Peerenboom's walk and five innings for the losers, allowing all seven runs. Mike Vandenleuvel finished up. The Foxes outthit the losers.

The Foxes scored three 10-4, in their second victory in runs in the second inning on two exhibitions with the losing singles by "Tex" Taylor, ers.

Cal Griffith Decides Not to Request OK To Move Senators

Nats Will Remain in Capital At Least Through '59 Season

BY JOE REICHLER

Chicago —(AP)— Calvin Griffith, with an ax over his head, decided after all not to seek American league approval to move his baseball club out of Washington.

Instead, the Senators will remain in the nation's capital at least through the 1959 season.

Full Intention
Griffith made this clear Sunday night in a statement issued on the eve of a scheduled American league meeting purportedly to listen to and act upon his expected request for permission to move the Senators to Minneapolis.

Until late Sunday the son of the late Clark Griffith had fully intended to go through with his plan to seek the sanction of his fellow club owners to quit Washington. He had what he considered a generous offer from the Minnesota city, which recently approved a $9 million bond issue in its bid to attract a big league baseball team.

But less than an hour after his arrival here, Griffith became aware of the solid opposition lined up against him. At least four clubs were prepared to oppose him. That is more than the votes necessary to block any franchise shift attempt.

Although Griffith refused to admit he had seen the handwriting on the wall, it is known that New York, Boston, Kansas City and Cleveland were almost certain to vote against him.

League President Will Harbridge said he, too, was personally against moving the club out of Washington because "it would be a tragedy for the American league to vacate the nation's capital."

The beleaguered Griffith left the door open for a possible shift attempt in the future, however. Asked whether he intended to renew his efforts to move before Oct. 31, deadline, he said: "I doubt it."

Then he added: "But no one can say they'll stay in one place the rest of his life. We've got problems in Washington. They must be resolved. I'm going to present them to the league meeting tomorrow."

Gain Tie for 5th Place in 2nd Round

Green Bay — The Fox Cities Foxes, finishing their first Three-1 league season with a flourish, copped 11 of their last 13 games to finish the second round in a fifth-place tie.

The Foxes swept a 3-game series in Green Bay Saturday and Sunday to give the Fox Cities six straight triumphs over the Bluejays. The Foxes won nine of 16 second round games from Green Bay and ended the season in a 13-13 standoff with their northern rivals.

The Foxes got three nifty pitching jobs over the weekend to continue their hot late-season performance. Rene Nofar from the Minnesota city, which recently approved a $9 million bond issue in its bid to attract a big league baseball team.

Cubs Sweep Doubleheader From Giants

Banks Hits 44th Homer; Redlegs Rap Phils Twice

(From AP Dispatches)

The Chicago Cubs used their home run power to take a doubleheader from the once ambitious San Francisco Giants in the National League Sunday.

Two homers by Walt Moryn and a 3-run, tie-breaking blast by Lee Walls in the eighth enabled the Cubs to beat the Giants, 6-4, in the first game.

Dick Drott's 3-hit pitching and the slugging of Ernie Banks accounted for a 4-1 triumph in the ninth game and gave the seventh place Cubs a 4½-game cushion over the cellar-dwelling Philadelphia Phillies.

Los Angeles hammered St. Louis, 7-5, and Cincinnati grabbed a 2½-game hold on fourth place by taking two at Philadelphia, 6-4 and 9-2.

Banks' homer in the seventh—his forty-fourth—broke up a pitching duel between Drott and Rubeen Gomez of the Giants in the second game. Banks also doubled home a pair of runs in the eighth to clinch the shutout.

Ends Shutout

Banks' home run matched his major league record for shortstops, set in 1956. Mike McCormick (11-8) lost the opener.

For the Reds, Hal Jeffcoat (6-8) was the first game winner and Dick Farrell (7-9) the loser, both in relief. In the nightcap, Joe Nuxhall (12-10) won, Seth Morehead (1-5) lost.

Dodger Johnny Podres (13-12) won with relief help—hitting his major league high after losing nine in a row on the road. Larry Jackson (12-11) lost it, his first defeat ever, by the Dodgers in St. Louis.

German Worker Runs 100 Meters In 10 Seconds

Lindau, Germany—The 100 meters finally have been run in 10 seconds. That's like a 4-minute mile. But there is some doubt if it'll get official recognition as a world record.

Armin Hary, a 21-year-old West German precision machinist, hit the 10 second figure Saturday at Friedrichshafen as he clipped one-fifth second off the listed world record set by American Willie Williams at Berlin Aug. 3, 1956 and tied on the same track, the following day by another Yank, Ira Murchison. Williams did it again Aug. 5.

An unofficial measurement of the Friedrichshafen track showed it sloped slightly more than permitted under international track regulations. An official survey was to be made today.

Two timekeepers clocked Hary in 9.9 and a third in 10 flat. They also are to be officially checked.

Retains Publinx Title by Carding Even-Par 144

Janesville —(P)—Archie Dadian of West Allis stayed one stroke ahead of Lyle Gifford of Janesville Sunday and repeated as champion of the Wisconsin Public Links Golf tournament.

Dadian finished with a par 144 for the 36-hole medal play tourney, while Gifford carded 145. Gifford also had been one stroke behind Dadian's 70 for Saturday's 18 holes.

Misses Chance

Gifford missed a chance to deadlock Dadian on the final hole when he dubbed his second shot after hitting a long, straight drive. Dadian had driven off the fairway, but his second shot landed just in front of the green.

Dadian's third shot dropped three feet from the cup, and he won the tourney when both he and Gifford 1-putted for par the following day by another Yank, Ira Murchison. Williams did it again Aug. 5.

The citation to the veteran Halas lauded him for his almost four decades of football coaching.

The honorary degree climaxed dedication of two new dormitories on the campus, one of them named for Halas.

The Bears have used St. Joseph's college as their training headquarters for the past 15 years.

Wide Open Spaces

Plans have been drawn showing it is feasible to increase the club's present 19,000-seat concrete stadium to a 72,000-seater. Nearby wide open spaces offer plenty of room for expansion for the playing field and for enlarging automobile parking.

By eastern standards, the area surrounding Denver is sparsely settled. Colorado has about 11 million residents, with about half in the Denver metropolitan area. Adjacent Wyoming has fewer than 300,000.

But Denver and Colorado Springs, 60 miles apart, are more sports minded than most towns their size. Dog racing is a competitive night attraction. College ice hockey drew 90,000 fans last winter. College football attractions include the Air Force academy and Colorado university.

Hot Sports Fans

Two of Colorado's top political figures, Gov. Steve McNichols and Denver Mayor Will Nicholson, are red-hot sports fans. They have been supporting all sports ventures and Nicholson especially is plugging for major league baseball.

One of Denver's best friends in the big league circles is Del Webb, co-owner of the New York Yankees. Webb has expressed his faith in a growing Denver by investing heavily in the two days of play.

Robbins Opens Title Defense

U. S. Team Keeps International Golf Trophy

San Francisco —(P)—Slim Hillman Robbins opens defense of his U. S. Amateur Golf championship today declaring, "I'm ready, but in this tournament anything can happen."

The 26-year-old Air Force lieutenant from Memphis, Tenn., heads a list of 200 golfers opening six days of match play over the hilly, tree-lined Olympic Country Club Lake course.

Robbins, who admits having trouble with his tee shots recently, had taken a surprising but decisive 5 and 3 defeat at the hands of Canada's 19-year-old Gary Cowan in the final singles play of the America's cup competition Saturday.

Cowan proved a star of the play, beating Robbins after dumping former champ Harvie Wark, 3 and 2, the previous day.

Still, the United States successfully defended the international trophy they've held since the matches started in 1952.

Uncle Sam's representatives piled up 30 points to 17 for Canada and 7 or Mexico in the two days of play.

shaded Ed Rakow in a pitchers' duel. Both allowed five hits. Cueto fanned three and walked one, Rakow struck out six and walked two in a game which was whizzed off in 1 hour and 24 minutes. A crowd of 1,412 bid the Bluejays goodbye.

Rakow threw two too many blooper pitches to the Foxes. In the fourth inning Hall got hold of a blooper — which Rakow lobbed over 20 feet into the air — and blasted it over the right field fence for the first Fox Cities hit and a 1-1 tie. In the eighth inning with two out, Cueto teed off on a blooper for a single off Rakow's glove. Cueto went to second when Wallace erred and scored on Danton's single.

Green Bay's Frank Howard collected just two hits in the 3-game series and ended the season with 37 home runs, one short of the Three-I league record. He and Robinson were to join the Los Angeles Dodgers in Philadelphia today.

New London Wins Playoff for BABA Southern Division Title

Hortonville — The New London Merchants won the playoff championship of the Southern division of the Badger Amateur Baseball association by whipping Manawa, 1-0, here Sunday afternoon.

New London scored the big run in the second inning. Ted Algiers and Jim Ehke walked. Ted scored when brother Ed Algiers singled.

Only Other Threat

The only other threat was in the fifth inning when Claire Baehman advanced to third base after reaching first on a fielder's choice. He stole second base and went to third as Shelly Rusch singled. Baehman was thrown out at the plate as he tried to score. Manawa runners advanced as far as second base in the first, fourth, seventh and eighth innings.

Winning pitcher Shelly Rusch held Manawa to four hits. New London had five. Rusch had 11 strikeouts and issued no free tickets to first. Dave Roman, Manawa pitcher, fanned seven and walked five. Manawa had five batters left on base and New London had eight.

crossed the plate when his brother Hank slammed a double.

The 1-run lead held up until the fourth Jack Konetzke walked after two were out, Chapleau singled and Carl Springer followed with another safety to score Konetzke. On the throw to the plate, Chapleau and Springer went to second and third and Don Gosz sent them both home with another one-bagger.

Hammen Doubles
The Papermakers chipped one notch off the Mac lead in their half of the fourth as Floyd Hammen doubled to lead off, went to third on an infield out and scored on a wild pitch.

Gries' hit made it 4-2 in the sixth but LC-K came right back with a run in their half of the same inning as Vander Wyst rocked a triple to right and scored when the relay was bobbled. That made the count 4-3 but Gries settled down and blanked the Papermakers the rest of the way.

With two out in the ninth, Clair Bolwerk singled for LC-K but Jim Kilsdonk batted for Mehlberg and popped to the catcher.

Hank Peerenboom was the only player to collect two hits in the game. Mehlberg struck out eight, walked three and hit one batter. Gries posted three strikeouts and walked only two.

Andrey-Reventlow Car Cops 500-Miler At Road America

30,000 Fans See 4.1 Ferrari Average
79.2 M.P.H., Triumph by Six Laps

Elkhart Lake, Wis. — The driving team of Gaston Andrey of Hamden, Conn., and Lance Reventlow of Beverly Hills, Calif., Sunday won the feature 500-mile race for sports cars at Road America.

Andrey, who piloted his 4.1 litre Ferrari for a total of 68 laps in the 125-lap race, averaged 79.2 miles per hour. Reventlow, the son of dime store heiress Barbara Hutton, drove 57 laps.

About 30,000 fans saw Andrey finish the race a full six laps ahead of his nearest competitor.

Come in 2nd

Jim Johnston and Eddy Lunken of Cincinnati, and Bud Seaverns of Evanston, Ill., a 3-man driving team, finished second in a 250 Ferrari Testa Rossa.

The team of Dean Causey of Carmel, Ind., and Chuck Reickert of Indianapolis, was third in a Porsche Spyder.

Andrey and Reventlow took over the lead after mechanical troubles forced a heavy portion of the competition into the pits. Of the 47 cars that started only 26 finished—and only 18 of the finishers traveled 100 laps or more.

E. D. Martin of Columbus, Ga., and J. H. Quackenbush of Cincinnati, fought a duel with the Andrey-Reventlow team for most of the race until a burned out clutch forced the Martin-Quackenbush Ferrari Testa Rossa into the pits at the end of 113 laps.

Richard Lyeth of Grosse Pointe, Mich., driving a Hi-Tek Special, opened the race with a burning pace, hitting 160 m.p.h. on the straight runs, and an average of 80 m.p.h. until engine trouble made him retire after 25 laps.

Jim Jeffords of Milwaukee, the current Class B production class point leader in Sports Car Club of America sanctioned events, lost a wheel on the 107th lap after running a hard third overall. Jeffords, driving a Corvette, won the 120-mile race on Saturday. The 80-mile event Saturday was won by Rickert in a Porsche Carrera.

Frank Baptista of Washington, D. C., won the handicap five-yard run by Alex Webster trophy Sunday for finishing sixth overall in a light, nimble Pat Sumerall.

The Green Bay Packers overwhelmed the Giants in the 500-yard race and passing yardage. The Packers passed Ullrich of Evanston, Ill., and for 285 yards to 134 by the Carl Haas of Lincolnwood, Ill., Giants and outstrided the New York in an Excelsior J designed by Brooks Stevens of Milwaukee.

Other division winners were Class C. Andrey-Reventlow; Class D. Johnston-Seaverns-Lunken; Class E. Jim Place, Waukegan, Ill., and Ken Neill, Kenosha, Ferrari Testa Rossa; Class F. Causey-Rickert; Class G. Baptista.

Another Heinrich pass was purloined by Bill Kinard. The Packers then moved 65 yards in seven plays, with rookie Jim Shanley carrying the ball the final yards just after the final quarter began. Shanley earlier accounted for 25 yards of the touchdown drive with some exceptional broken field running.

Passes to Deschaine

Rookie Joe Francis from Oregon State ended the Packers' TD parade late in the fourth quarter, passing 20 yards to Dick Deschaine. The Packers scored both of their touchdowns in the first half on long passes. Starr threw 28 yards to Billy Howton and Vito Parilli passed to McGee for 56 yards. McGee caught seven passes for a total of 166 yards.

New York led at halftime on a 50-yard pass from Charley Conerly to Frank Gifford, a fourth quarter, passing 20 yards to Dick Deschaine.

ninth. Lew Burdette (16-10) was the loser.

Spahn allowed no walks and just five singles.

The 28-year-old Law gave up six singles and a double to Red Schoendienst in 8 1-3 innings.

Law had a 4-hit shutout going into the ninth inning when a Braves rally brought in reliever Elroy Face.

Opens With Double

Schoendienst opened the ninth with a double, went to third on John Logan's short single and scored on a fly ball.

After Henry Aaron singled, Face took the mound and got Frank Torre on a pop fly and Adcock on a deep fly.

Bob Skinner drove in three pirate runs in the second game. He hit the only homer of the day in the eighth inning with Bob Clemente on base and he singled Clemente home in the sixth inning.

Pirates other run came in the fifth when Bill Mazeroski tripled and scored on a high bouncer by Bill Hall.

The homer was charged against Don McMahon who hurled the eighth inning after Burdette was replaced by a pinch batter.

Skinner scored the lone run against Spahn in the first game. In the second inning Skinner singled, went to third on Frank Thomas' single and scored on a double play.

Covington drove in all three Milwaukee runs with a first-inning single and his double in the eighth.

The Braves slugger hurt himself on that double and may be out of action a week or more. Covington slipped as he rounded first base and lacerated a muscle in his right leg regaining his balance. He was replaced at second base by a pinch runner.

A double by Torre was the only other extra-base hit off Kline.

The Milwaukee team flew home Sunday night. The Braves will open a two-game series with Cincinnati Tuesday night.

Ramos Continues Hex Over Yankees

Fires Second Straight 6-Hit Shutout Win Over New Yorkers

By The Associated Press
The veep should have spoken up a bit sooner.
It wasn't until Aug. 19 that Vice President Nixon, taking in a ball game at Washington, told Pete Ramos "I expect you to win 17 games."
"But I've only won 11 and I've never won more than 12," said the Senators' slim right-

Fred Hawkins Leads Utah Open by Two

Salt Lake City — Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Texas, teed off today in the $17,000 Utah Open hunting his second major golf victory.
Hawkins, whose only other big-time win was in the 1956 Oklahoma City Open, came from nowhere with a 10-under-par 62 in the third round over the 6,394-yard Salt Lake Country Club course. He had a 54-hole total of 189.
The 62 equaled the competitive course mark.
Dow Finsterwald, Tequesta, Fla., and Bob Rosburg, Palo Alto, Calif., kept up their under-70 efforts and carded 201s.
Tom Nieporte, Bronxville, N.Y., who had the 36-hole lead with 132, added a 70 in the third round and was tied with Arnold Palmer, Latrobe, Pa., at 202.

Tom Lennon Hits 583 Kegling Set

Tom Lennon polished off a 583 threesome to show the way in opening Tavern league bowling at Hahn's. He also collected a pair of 202 solo counts.
Other honor tallies:

FACSIMILE BALLOT NOTICE OF September Primary Election

SEPT. 9, 1958

Office of County Clerk

STATE OF WISCONSIN ) COUNTY OF OUTAGAMIE ) SS

To the Electors of Outagamie County:

NOTICE is hereby given that an Election is to be held in the several Towns, Wards, Villages, and Election Precincts in the County of Outagamie, on the 9th day of September, 1958, at which the officers named below are to be chosen. The names of the candidates for each office to be voted for, whose nominations have been certified to or filed in this office, are given under the title of the office and under the appropriate party or other designation, each in its proper column, in the sample ballot below.

INFORMATION TO VOTERS

The following instructions are given for the information and guidance of voters:
A voter upon entering the polling place and giving his name and residence, will receive a ballot from the ballot clerk which must have indorsed thereon the names or initials of both ballot clerks, and no other ballot can be used. Upon receiving his ballot, the voter must retire alone to a booth or compartment and prepare the same for voting. A ballot clerk may inform the voter as to the proper manner of marking a ballot, but he must not advise or indicate in any manner whom to vote for.
At a party primary election, the voter shall select the party ticket of his choice and make a cross or other mark in the square at the right of the name of the candidate for each office for whom he intends to vote for, or by inserting or writing in the name of any other candidate.
The ballot should not be marked in any other manner. If the ballot be spoiled, it must be returned to the ballot clerk, who must issue another in its stead, but not more than three in all shall be issued to any one voter. Five minutes' time is allowed in booth to mark ballot. Unofficial ballots or memorandum to assist the voter in marking his ballot can be taken into the booth, and may be used to copy from. The ballot must not be shown so that any person can see how it has been marked by the voter.

After it is marked it should be folded so that the inside cannot be seen, but so that the printed indorsements and signatures of the ballot clerks on the outside may be seen. Then the voter should pass out of the booth or compartment, give his name to the inspector in charge of the ballot box, hand him his ballot to be placed in the box, and pass out of the voting place.
A voter, who declares to the presiding officer that he is unable to read, or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot, can have assistance of two election officers in marking same, to be chosen by the voter; and if he declares that he is totally blind, he may be assisted by any person chosen by him from among the legal voters of the county. The presiding officer may administer an oath in his discretion, as to such person's disability.

Paper Companies Sponsor Visit of Mobile Display

Appleton Coated and Riverside Coated Paper companies are sponsoring a visit to Appleton this week of a paper-mobile, an exhibit built by the Wisconsin paper industry. The exhibit, in miniature, portrays the entire paper industry from the growing of trees to the making of pulp and paper. Because the exhibit will be made available to Appleton schools next year, it will be viewed by school board members at 6:45 this evening at Appleton Coated.

Rural Appleton Youth in Jail After Car Chase

Chilton—Martin J. Schumacher, 18, route 4, Appleton, is serving a 60-day term at the Calumet county jail after leading Calumet and Outagamie county traffic patrolmen on a chase through a farm yard near Kernan avenue and Calumet street south of the Appleton city limits Saturday. He pleaded guilty of operating a car after his driver's license had been revoked when he appeared before Justice of the Peace Wilbur Winch Saturday night. He was fined $200 with the alternative of 60 days in jail. He was arrested by Calumet Patrolman Irvin Vice and Outagamie Patrolman Calvin Spice after Vice stopped him on Kernan avenue. The youth fled into a farm yard at Kernan and Calumet, through the yard into a cornfield, through cut corn rows and out onto a town road and then back into the same farm yard. He ran into the house and Vice called Spice to help him before arresting the boy in the house.

Appleton Couple Hurt in Crash In Sherwood

Chilton—Mr. and Mrs. Peter Jansen, 3332 E. Wisconsin road, Appleton, were both taken to Calumet Memorial hospital by the Schindler ambulance from Stockbridge for treatment of injuries received in an automobile accident Friday afternoon at Highways 114, 54 and County Trunk B in Sherwood. Jansen, 62, suffered face and leg cuts and bruises. The Jansen car collided with a car driven by Wesley H. Schmidt, 44, route 1, Brillion. Schmidt received minor injuries. Both drivers said their vision was obstructed by shrubbery. Carl E. Scheidt, 19, Cleveland, escaped injuries when the truck he was driving went out of control and overturned on County Trunk H about three miles west of New Holstein at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon. Scheidt said he lost control when he was rounding a curve.

Veteran Bonus Would Only Mean New Tax

Knowles Explains State's Stand as Commissioners Meet

Waupaca — Wisconsin veterans could receive a bonus, but it would mean another tax for them to pay, said Lt. Gov. Warren P. Knowles in a speech Sunday before members of the Wisconsin State Association of County Veterans Service commissions. In relating major veteran's criticisms he has received during statewide travels, Knowles explained that there was no "money tree or pot of gold" at Madison, and that a bonus would mean more taxes.

In 1947 a referendum on the bonus question was turned down by Wisconsin voters, said Knowles. He said a bonus was only a minor recognition for a veteran's service and that the thinking vet doesn't want any more taxes than he already has.

Use of Vet Money
State residents have also asked the lieutenant governor why the $70 million in the veteran's trust fund shouldn't be divided. Knowles explains that the money is in use daily for veteran's loans and benefits.

Counties closed to the veteran's housing program was another problem said Knowles. He suggested that the veterans service commissions and other veterans organizations begin working on opening up the closed counties.

Knowles also told the commissioners that loans for veterans entering business were not large enough. He said that a loan of $1,000 for a business today was insignificant and that further consideration might be given to increasing the loan limit.

The Korean war vet is the man we are concerned with, said Knowles. He stated that World war II vets should be rehabilitated by now.

Knowles told the group that the department of veterans affairs was begun in 1945 as a long range plan aimed at rehabilitation of veterans. He cited advances including raising the rehabilitation loan limit from $700 to $1,000. He also congratulated G. H. Stordock, King commandant, for his continual battle for veterans benefits.

Promote Wisconsin
Promotion of Wisconsin for all purposes, said Knowles, was what he was working for. He told the commissioners that they and the entire state should promote the state every day.

Wisconsin ranks tenth in industrial production and growth and will become an even larger industrial center with the advent of the St. Lawrence seaway, he said.

Business of the commissioners annual meeting included election of officers, committee reports, problem discussion and education. Elect Officers

About 60 of the state's 71 counties were represented at the meeting. Waupaca representatives were Frank Smith, veterans service officer, and Emil Gahrke, chairman of the legislative committee from New London.

New officers include A. L. Peters, president, Marinette; Ernest Stout, vice president, Viroqua, and A. R. Langhoff, treasurer, Fort Atkinson. A secretary will be chosen later by the president. New executive committee members are Fred Smith, De Pere; Karl Loehring, Neenah; and C. R. Nelson, Mondovi. Other members are Ray Chamberlain, Whitewater; Felix Obertone, Hurley, and Robert Elkins, Thorp. A legislative committee will be named by President Peters.

New London Boy Shot in Heel

New London — A 12-year-old New London boy was shot in the left heel about 1:15 Sunday afternoon when an automatic .22 caliber rifle discharged during target practice in a sand pit near the south city limits. Earl Wangeline, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Wangeline, 1512 Wyman street, underwent surgery this morning at Community hospital to have the bullet removed. Wangeline and his companion, Robert Gruentzel, 15, 211 Rowland street, were practicing shooting near the George Edminister, Jr., home. The boys told Waupaca county police they had finished shooting and laid the rifle on the ground. It discharged when they were both walking toward the target, they said.

Lightning Kills 2 California Children

Big Bear Lake, Calif. — Lightning cracked down from a sudden storm and killed two children and injured a third while their father, former All America football player Bob Reinhard, watched from a skiff on the lake. A moment after the tragedy yesterday the storm ended and this lake resort in the San Bernardino mountains was bathed in sunshine. The lightning bolt exploded into a plywood shack on the lake's shore where the three youngsters had ducked out of the downpour. Reinhard, one of the University of California's greatest linemen and later a professional star with the old Los Angeles Rams and Los Angeles Rams, was fishing on the lake with his fourth child, Robert, 10.

Winners Named In Wool Contest

Several Appleton girls were winners in the district seven wool contest Saturday in Sheboygan. All submitted articles of clothing made of wool. Winners and their divisions are Polly Webb, Appleton, and Kleone Klein, route 1, Eldorado, sub-deb; Linda Lambie, route 2, Kaukauna, and Joan Knuppel, Appleton, junior division; Caryl Wittman, route 4, Appleton, and Helen Feile, route 1, Kiel, senior division. Miss Feile also won a bond presented by Appleton Woolen mills. Junior and senior winners will enter the state contest Oct. 31 and Nov. 1 in Madison.

Extinguish Fire At Paper Firm

Appleton firemen this morning extinguished a blaze in the electrical control room of the Riverside Paper company, 800 S. Lawe street. Fire Chief Paul Neumann said damage was minor. The fire started in oil soaked insulation around hot steam pipes. The oil had dripped onto the insulation from a paper machine. Firemen used water and chemical extinguishers to put out the blaze.

Harriman Coolness Now Gets Warmer

Democratic Contender Begins to Break Ice of Personal Relations

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE

Washington — The strange battle of Harriman against Harriman is intriguing the national politicians on all sides.

Averell Harriman, the erstwhile shy, all but tongue-tied and profoundly popular socialite, is being heavily engaged by Gov. Averell Harriman, the increasingly relaxed New York politico.

Harriman may not defeat his Republican challenger, Nelson Rockefeller, in November. He may not come out on top as the ultimate Democratic boss of New York state over the Tammany "pros" whose predecessors called similar trouble to another rich and broad-A reform governor called Franklin D. Roosevelt.

But the new personality of Harriman the politician obviously is coming out well ahead of that old, cold Harriman personality which prompted some of his Washington friends to give him this half-cruel, half-affectionate nickname: "Honest Ave the hair-splitter."

Personal Ice
Harriman has gone the whole way to break his personal ice. Mr. and Mrs. Averell Harriman of Sands Point and Albany turned up the other day in the vast Long Island housing development of Levittown to have a backyard-picnic lunch with Mr. and Mrs. William Reilly.

And the governor not only was in shirt sleeves—it was an open-neck, short-sleeved sport shirt.

The distance between Sands Point, Long Island, and Levittown, Long Island, is not great—on the map. In more subtle ways, however, it is the width of two worlds, social and financial worlds. Harriman had not only crossed an island, but these worlds as well.

Many politicians here find it all but incredible that he was able to do it—not that they don't know a harmless publicity stunt when they see one. They simply find it difficult to put this man with the Averell Harriman they remember from yesterday.

He served the Roosevelt and Truman administrations with credit in various foreign policy assignments—including a tour as ambassador to Moscow, in which the very liberal Democrat took an extremely cold-eyed view toward the synthetic doves of peace the Russians were putting aloft. His devotion and efficiency as a public servant were apparent so long as he was dealing with small, expert groups.

Press Club Ribbing
In 1956, as an aspirant for the Democratic presidential nomination, Harriman appeared at a luncheon in the National Press club. Before this cheerfully irreverent group his manner, in spite of all he could wish, was a study in repressed dismay.

Frank Holeman, then president of the Press club, observed its guest had gone to work for the Union Pacific railroad after college and within an amazingly short time—three weeks or so—had become a vice president of the line. A helpful fact, Holeman laughingly suggested, might have been that Averell's father owned the railroad.

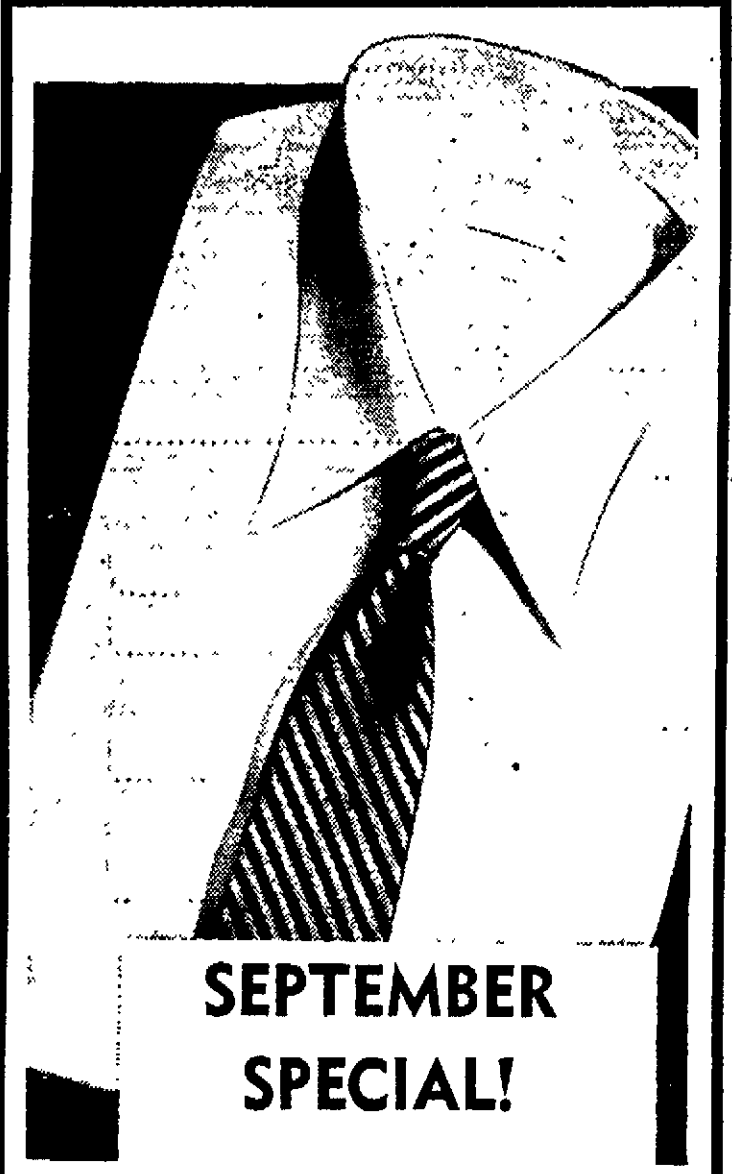

Harriman grinned the white-faced grin of a desperately embarrassed man. And then Holeman called on all to be kind to this speaker, Harriman, for whom life had been "a hard downhill struggle."

This "hard, downhill struggle" has been a personal transformation from the life of a very rich and isolated man to the life of a man able to mix and to mingle and to contend for votes. This is not the easiest struggle in the world. And this victory, at least, Harriman is now winning.

Life in Outdoors
Covered by Authors

Outdoor life, particularly sports and gardening, are covered in several of the new books added this week to the Appleton public library. All are on display now and will be released for circulation Friday, (Sept. 12).

Dealing with activities in the world of air, earth and water are "The Complete Book of Fly Fishing" by Joe Brooks, a guide to the techniques and artistry of the sport; "1,001 African Violet Questions" edited by Helen Wilson, gardening problems answered by 12 experts; "The Mushroom Hunter's Field Guide" by Alexander Smith, when, where and how to find edible and poisonous varieties; "The Fascinating World of Butterflies" by L. Hugh Newman, a photographic study; and "All About Boats" by James Hutchinson, a handbook for novices.

About Dreams

Other non-fiction includes "Insomnia and Its Relation to Dreams" by Leonard Gilman, an examination of dream life and how it affects sleep; "How to Live With Diabetes" by Henry Dolger, a coverage of the diagnosis, treatment, and problems of the disease; "Through Alchemy to Chemistry" by John Read, a history of the development of chemistry.

"The American Communist Party" by Irving Howe, a critical history from 1919 to 1957; "The Meaning of Baptism" by John Jansen, a collection of

Reading Shows
August Increase

Fiction Decrease Offset by Hike in Other Departments

The Appleton public library again showed an over-all increase in circulation and a rise in the daily average circulation in August as compared with a year ago.

A decrease in adult fiction circulation was offset by a large increase in children's room withdrawals and non-fiction reading, according to the monthly report issued by Miss Edith Reehcyl, head librarian.

Total circulation for the month was 21,707, a rise of 1,632. A breakdown of adult withdrawals shows 4,423 fiction, a decrease of 2,654; non-fiction, an increase of 1,731; and 6 foreign language volumes, an increase of 2. Juvenile circulation was 11,193, an increase of 2,553 while the daily average for all departments was 1,033.7, a hike of .1212.

The report indicates 93,119 books were on library shelves at the end of August, an increase of 4,997. Of the volumes, 60,942 were classified as for adults and 32,177 were for young people.

Registrations totaled 17,565 with 11,244 adults and 6,321 juveniles holding cards. The increase is 1,112 over August, 1957.

Thilmany President
Named to Insurance
Examining Committee

Elmer Jennings, president of Thilmany Pulp and Paper company, Kaukauna, has been named to the policyholders examining committee of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company.

He served on the 1957-58 committee. Jennings

Also named was Charles D. Gelatt, president of the Northern Engraving and Manufacturing company, La Crosse.

The committee examines company practices and policies on behalf of policyholders.

Schedule Planning Meeting for Industrial Survival Conference

Three members of the industrial division of the chamber of commerce will attend a meeting to organize a Fox Valley Industrial Survival conference at 7:30 Sept. 18 at the Green Bay Chamber of Commerce offices.

Attending from Appleton will be Donald Bradley, Charles Buchanan and Kenneth Corbett, chamber secretary.

Other representatives will attend from Neenah-Menasha, Oshkosh, Kaukauna and Green Bay. A general conference on industrial survival will be held later this fall.

12,543 Will Get Social Security Hike

Higher Payments Begin in February, Manager Reports

About 12,543 people serviced by the Appleton district social security office will begin receiving a 7 per cent automatic increase in their monthly checks sometime in February. Frank M. Donnick, office manager, said today.

Many people previously not eligible for payments will begin receiving benefits under new amendments, Donnick stated. The groups include:

Dependents of people 50 years old or over who are now getting disability insurance benefits. This includes children under 18 or disabled, a wife of any age who has a child in her care who is entitled to benefits, a wife 62 or over, or a dependent husband 65 or more;

Disabled People Disabled people 50 or over who could not qualify for benefits under the old law because they did not have as much as 1 1/2 years of work in the three years before they were disabled;

Dependent parents whose son or daughter died after 1939 and who couldn't qualify under the old law because the son or daughter left a widow, widower or child;

Adopted children whose adopting parent received retirement benefits at least three years after the adoption. In many cases this provision will make payments possible to the mother of the adopted child.

A person receiving payments who marries another person also receiving payments can continue to receive monthly checks, or can become eligible as a dependent of the new husband or wife without waiting the usual three years required by law.

Disabled workers whose social security disability benefits were reduced or were not

Receipts in Deeds Office Decrease

August receipts at the office of Stephen M. Peeters, Outagamie county register of deeds were $2,026 in payment of 1,119 filing and 880 recording fees.

The amount was slightly less than the $2,036 collected in August, 1957 for 1,034 filing and 901 recording fees.

Property transfers recorded at Peeters' office include:

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon F. Lemke to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Van Stippen, a lot in Appleton.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Purves to Mr. and Mrs. Julian Cox, a parcel of land in Appleton.

C of C Again to Hold Economic Study Groups

Series of Weekly Meetings to be Open To Non-Members

A series of economic study groups will be sponsored again this year by the industrial division of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce, the division's executive committee has decided.

Kenneth Corbett, chamber secretary, said letters will be sent to the entire membership asking interested persons to attend an organizational meeting. The series of 17 weekly meetings will not be restricted to chamber members but will be open to others, Corbett said.

Last year there were three groups of about 20 persons each. Two of the groups met for breakfast meetings and one in the evening. The enrollment fee last year was $25 including payment for breakfasts, booklets and film and tape recording rentals.

Want Advance Course

Many of those enrolled in last year's study groups want an advanced course this year, Corbett said. Such a course may be organized if enough interest is shown and speakers can be obtained.

The study topics last year included money and banking, control of the money supply, the relation of the money supply to income and jobs, a study of the national income and its distribution, progress and prosperity including the role of the chamber of commerce, methods of sustaining prosperity with an explanation of how the individual businessman can help avoid the business cycles, labor and the American economy and tax problems.

The course seems to appeal to all people in all walks of life, Corbett said.

Seraphim Agrees With Criticism Of John Reynolds

Christ Seraphim, Milwaukee, said Sunday he agreed with criticism of John Reynolds, Green Bay, his Democratic opponent for attorney general, for campaigning in opposition to a sales tax.

Seraphim said that for Reynolds to advise the voters in any way that his election would enable the voters to defeat the sales tax would be improper.

Lt. Gov. Warren Knowles criticized Sen. William Proxmire for sending out "hundreds of letters each day for political purposes."

"Another six years of Proxmire in the senate probably would mean the department would go into debt an additional $23 billion just to pay for his junk mail."

Sheriff Investigating Waverly Bar Burglary

Calumet county Sheriff C. J. Kosmosky was investigating a burglary this morning at the Waverly Beach tavern.

The theft was discovered when the bar was opened this morning. Clem Weinandt, proprietor, said information about the burglary was being withheld pending the sheriff's investigation.

Kaukaunan Dies As Car Hits House

boygan County Trunk F. The crossing is two miles south of Waldo.

The train was held up nearly an hour while workmen separated the locomotive and the wrecked auto.

Authorities quoted the train's engineer, V. R. Verman of Milwaukee, as saying he sounded his whistle as the train neared the crossing but was unable to stop in time to avoid a crash. The car bounced and has no automatic electric warning signals.

Kaukauna police said Bay-orgeon was traveling east on Taylor street and his car apparently failed to round a curve, snapping a telephone pole in front of 324 Taylor street. The car skidded back onto the road and traveled about 525 feet and over a curb, bent over a street marker and traveled 30 feet into the front of the Joseph Ali-brando home, 234 Taylor street. The car bounced and skidded around, stopping a few feet from a large tree. No one was in the house.

Both men were thrown from the car and found on the ground between the home and the car. The car crashed through the siding on the home, the impact throwing plaster about 15 feet into the living room and bedroom. The family was spending the weekend at a lake cottage.

The 1950 model car was demolished and damage to the home was extensive. The impact crumbled the inside house wall and a floor lamp was bent and broken.

The vehicle remained upright and came to a stop about 12 feet from the curb on the lawn of the damaged home. Both men were thrown out of the right hand side of the car, according to Kaukauna Police Chief Harold V. Engerson.

Kemps said he will confer with Dist. Atty. George Griesch on a possible inquest to be held after Bayorgeon's release from the hospital.

Heindel Obituary

Heindel was born in Kaukauna Aug. 1, 1928, and was unmarried.

Funeral services will be at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning at Holy Cross Catholic church, Kaukauna, with burial in the parish cemetery. Friends may call after 4 o'clock this afternoon at the Fargo Funeral home, Kaukauna, where the rosary will be said at 8 o'clock tonight and Tuesday night.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Heindel, Kaukauna; two brothers, Thomas and David, both at home and one sister, Mrs. Lloyd Wink, Luxemburg.

Other State Deaths

Earl Schober, 25, Port Washington, was killed in Saukville Saturday night when his auto and a Milwaukee Road train met at a crossing on Highway 33.

Theodore Chebowski, 48, died in a train-auto crash in Milwaukee Saturday. Police said the man's auto was hit by a Milwaukee Road passenger train and was carried almost one mile along the tracks. Authorities said Chebowski's auto passed two other cars which had stopped on the signal of the crossing's wig-wag signals.

Police said Chebowski had been released on $500 bail Friday after he had been charged with theft of $1,927 from an appliance store where he worked as a clerk.

Ronald Dominiczak, 5, Menomonee Falls, was struck and killed by a car Saturday night on Highway 175 near his home.

Ernest Rogers, 46, Kenosha, died Sunday of a skull fracture suffered Aug. 26 when he was thrown from his pickup truck one mile south of the Kenosha city limits.

China's territorial waters," and the Seventh fleet commander, Vice Adm. Wallace M. Beakley, said American escorting of supplies to Quemoy "is going to become routine."

The communist bombardment of Quemoy resumed after a lull of more than 62 hours during which two cruisers and six destroyers of the Seventh fleet yesterday escorted two national landing ships loaded with 300 tons of ammunition to Quemoy.

It was the first American escort of a daylight convoy to the beleaguered island, although Beakley disclosed that his ships had been shepherding supply ships to Quemoy at night since last Wednesday.

Challenge to Reds

The American action challenged Peiping's recent proclamation extending red China's territorial waters 12 miles out from the shore and beyond Quemoy. The United States rejected the extension, saying it would continue to observe the 3-mile limit, and the escorting ships yesterday remained some seven miles off the communist mainland.

Peiping radio charged the American ships with violating Chinese waters and broadcast a "serious warning" from the foreign ministry. The warning was repeated again today.

The furious air battle took place this morning over the Formosa strait, 23 miles east of the Tanghai base at which the communists recently based 50 MIG-17s.

Gen. Curtis LeMay, U. S. Air Force vice chief of staff who arrived on Formosa yesterday, personally congratulated the nationalist fighter pilots when they returned to Taoyuan air base south of Taipei.

The nationalists said they were attacked while flying air patrol for the U. S. convoy to Quemoy. There was no mention of any U. S. ships being in the area of the dogfight, however.

Praises Sabre

The pilots said their 12 planes faced an equal number of the Russian-made MIGs. Capt. S. W. Liu—who was credited with two kills—said he thought the American Sabre was a better plane than the MIG-17. Capt. Yu Chung-ti, who claimed one kill, said eight MIGs were lined up against eight Sabres at 35,000 feet, with four more covering for each side at 43,000 feet.

Peiping radio kept up a steady stream of attacks on what it called "American military provocations" and reported rallies denouncing American moves in the Far East. Three million Chinese reportedly demonstrated in Peiping and one million in Shanghai.

Communist youth groups called on students and youths to take up arms if "U. S. war against eight Sabres at 35,000 maniacs" start a war.

to place their billfolds and other possessions on the auto's hood, and told Miss Schneider to pick up the valuables and come with him. The crew-cut, blond intruder drew his gun toward Miss Schneider as he gave out the order, Mrs. Coleman said.

Acted Deranged

"All four of them were in a daze from the shock of being fired on," Scheerer said. "What else could the girl do, with the gun pointed on her, but get in the car?"

Mrs. Coleman said the gunman "acted deranged — very odd—although he didn't appear to have been drinking." She added he appeared to be in his early 30s, about 5-feet-11, and weighing about 165 pounds.

Mrs. Coleman said she was certain Miss Schneider and the gunman had not known each other.

Scheerer said he was notified about an hour after the 3 a.m. kidnaping occurred. He sounded an all-points alert to officers in Colorado, Wyoming and surrounding states. The Wyoming-Colorado line is 42 miles north of Fort Collins.

May Have Crossed Line

Scheerer said the kidnaper could have been across the Wyoming line before authorities here heard of the abduction.

The sheriff said the kidnaper's car had Larimer county license.

Miss Schneider is 5-feet-3 and weighs 112 pounds. She was wearing a white blouse with red and gray plaid slacks and white squaw boots. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Schneider of Wakeeney, Kan., who arrived here by automobile early today.

Miss Schneider was graduated from Fort Collins High school in June.

In Denver, J. Scott Werner, chief FBI agent, said he was keeping in close touch with developments.

"If the man has taken or takes the girl across the line into Wyoming," Werner said, "it will be a federal case and we'll step in."

Water Moccasin, Being Pulled on String by Youths, Bites Girl

San Antonio, Tex.—(AP)—Police said five boys, about 14 or 15 years old, caught a water moccasin and tied a string to it.

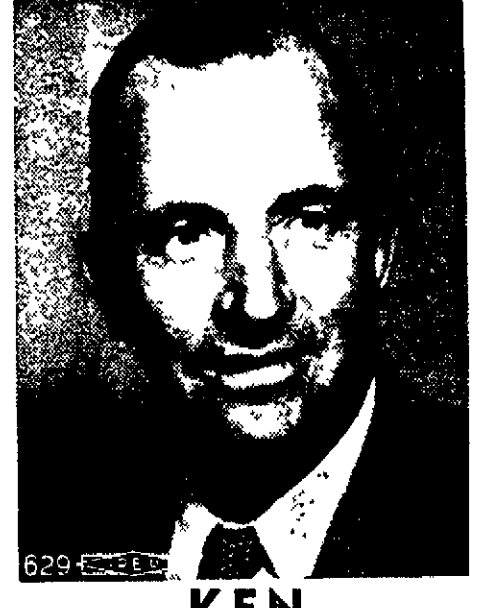

They were pulling it along a downtown street Sunday when they passed a group of three girls. Two of them jumped out of the way, but Mary Jane Farris, 15, was bitten on the left foot. The boys fled, but former policeman L. C. Christensen applied first aid and the girl was taken to a hospital. She was treated and later released.

REPUBLICANS!!

FROELICH . . . (X)

We will be assured of a Republican victory in November for First District Assemblyman by uniting behind and giving a solid block of support to Harold V. Froehlich.

"Froehlich" is not a Johnny come lately Republican. He has been active in Republican ranks and is the Republican Statutory Committee Chairman of Outagamie County and a former Eighth District Young Republican Chairman. He works with thoroughness and in a co-operative manner thereby inviting the best kind of team effort.

"Froehlich" has no old axes to grind. Thus he can tackle legislative responsibility in an objective, forthright and productive manner.

"Froehlich's" first move when nominated will be to meet with individuals and groups in the First Assembly District including: city and county officials, county board supervisors, and city aldermen, to develop a forward looking legislative program. He believes that the laws under which we live, should reflect the best judgement and experience of the majority.

"Froehlich" believes that we should place more emphasis in government on improving administrative policy methods and procedures rather than appropriating more and more, thereby adding to the already heavy tax burden. He believes government should go all out, as business and industry has done, in adopting more efficient and economical procedure.

"Froehlich" will work for highway safety, improved boating safety, and a sound state park program.

Why did you buy a house?

WHEN YOU decided to buy a house, you were probably thinking primarily of your wife and children.

You wanted to be sure that they would have a nice home to live in. Another concern was for the environment in which your children would grow up. You wanted good schools, play space, nice neighbors.

These are also good reasons for making sure that your family can keep it if something should happen to you.

Metropolitan offers several ways for you to make sure that your family will be left with a deed instead of a debt.

A Metropolitan Mortgage Term Plan is one way. It is designed to cover the usual type of home mortgage, which decreases as payments on the principal are made. The face amount of the insurance also decreases annually, so that the level premium is relatively inexpensive.

Another way, more satisfactory for most younger men, is a Metropolitan Whole Life policy. This is permanent insurance. In addition to assuring that funds will be available for payment of the mortgage in the event of death, it also builds cash and loan values which furnish a nest egg to help take care of payments in case of illness or other emergency.

And because the face value does not decrease, it can be used for continuing protection or be fitted into your retirement plans after the mortgage is paid off.

Let your Metropolitan Representative help you choose a plan for your family situation and budget. He will be pleased to give you the facts about this insurance. So, why not call him today.

Are State Constitutions Out of Date?

Robert W. Groenert, Milwaukee, candidate for the Democratic nomination for secretary of state, believes that the office he seeks should be taken out of politics and filled by civil service rules.

There have been some acid comments about Groenert running for an office which he thinks should be filled by appointment, but there can be little doubt that Groenert is right. The Wisconsin Constitution provides for the election of six constitutional officers. They are governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, state treasurer, attorney general, and superintendent of public instruction. The reason for the election of governor and lieutenant governor is quite clear and no one would want to change that. The secretary of state is third in line for succession to the office of governor in the event of the death or disability of both governor and lieutenant governor but the likelihood of a secretary of state ever becoming governor is so slight that it might well be disregarded.

Aside from the idea that the secretary of state should be elected to qualify him as a possible successor to the governor, it must be quite obvious that the state would be better served by an official chosen under civil service for the duties he must perform every day of his term. Again selection by civil service rules or by appointment by the governor should offer a better way of selecting the treasurer, the attorney general and the superintendent of public instruction.

There are many state officials as important to the people as any of the constitutional officials, other than governor and lieutenant governor, who are not elected by the people; the heads of such departments as have to do with highways, motor vehicles, insurance, fair employment, industrial and utility regulation. Many of them might have been included among the constitutional officers if the need for them had been known when that document was written.

Today if we were re-writing the constitution, what changes would be made? Alaska as the 49th state had the advantage of consulting all of the other state constitutions in the preparation of its own and thus may be considered to have a model constitution. One provision favored by the new state is in line with Groenert's ideas in that it permits the governor to appoint all administrative state officers. Another provides for the selection of judges under terms suggested by the Missouri plan. The purpose is to give the people some control over the courts and at the same time keep the judges out of politics.

It will be interesting to see how the new state will get along under the constitution. Since it picked and chose bits from 48 constitutions perhaps the 48 states may in turn learn from the Alaskan document.

Organizing or Extortion

People who have been wondering why several circuses closed down after 1956 and others discarded the canvas big tops may get the answer by following the hearings of the Senate Rackets committee.

A story that caught the public interest came from Robert L. Hines, Fort Wayne, who told how Harry Karsh, a "very capable organizer" who had been kicked out of the American Federation of Labor, forced a group of carnival workers into his union. Karsh got a charter for the Jewelry Workers carnival local on the recommendation of Harold Gibbons, vice president of the Teamsters. When he had the charter his goal was to line up dues paying members in the least time possible.

The carnival workers with the Cetlin and Wilson Shows didn't want to join but that fact didn't interest Karsh. He didn't ask them if they wanted to join, he merely followed the show about threatening to close it down if he didn't get his way. There was no negotiating. Karsh's word was that he wanted a contract that would give all workers, excepting unionized musicians and actors, 30 days to join his union or be fired.

When the show arrived at Fort Wayne, Karsh was ready with imported pickets to prevent the unloading. The animals on the carnival train needed food and water, and Karsh had the humane officer threatening to arrest the owners for cruelty to animals, and the police were on hand to prevent the unloading unless trucks were provided to move the show out. The Teamsters refused to handle the material until the contract was signed.

Of course the owner had to sign, but the committee is impressed with the charge that Karsh's activities were extortion and not labor organizing. The fact that he won by punishing dumb animals interests most people more than do beatings, shootings, and other strong arm tactics when practiced against other workmen.

An effort to organize Ringling Brothers-Barnum and Bailey Circus failed because it was too expensive. The American Guild of Variety Artists and the Teamsters set up a circus to follow the big show around the country in an effort to split the crowd in each town and thus punish Ringlings. But the Unions found running a circus was expensive. "We were beset by labor problems," Jackie Bright, one of the organizers said. Everywhere he turned he found he needed more stagehands, more carpenters, more electricians and more money.

As Sen. McClellan put it, they got "a dose of their own medicine" but there is no indication that they learned anything from the experience. If their methods of organizing should bankrupt a company, they merely look about for another to attack. That is why many people believe there should be legislation regulating union activities. If there is no statesmanship in the union leadership it will have to be supplied.

The Horseshoe Nail

NATO was created to encourage the North Atlantic countries to protect each other, particularly from the encroachments of Soviet Russia. But the organization is teetering on the verge of chaos because of a dispute over fish. In the long run perhaps this is the type of thing for which men always will fight.

In 1952 Iceland extended her territorial limits from three miles to four. England refused to recognize the extension and banned the handling of fish from Icelandic ships in British ports. The affair presumably was peacefully eased in 1956 when the ban was lifted with the understanding that Iceland would extend no further. But England kept sending in the fishing trawlers. Between 1952 and 1957 there were 28 British ships arrested inside the four mile limit.

Now Iceland has extended the limit to 12 miles with straight lines drawn from headlands rather than following the curve of the coastline. England has stormed it shall not honor the extension. British ships have been picked up by Iceland gunboats, British gunboats have turned guns on Icelandic ships and NATO headquarters in Paris has announced no solution.

Financially both sides have a large stake to lose. More than four-fifths of the sprawling British fishing industry comes from ships fishing in distant waters for deep fish like haddock, cod, flounder and plaice. A quarter of this catch has come from Icelandic waters in recent years. England fears that, if this extension is accepted, other nations like Norway promptly will reach out their restrictions. Iceland, on the other hand, argues that the disputed, fish-rich area is part of Iceland's continental shelf, and that fish make up 90 per cent of Iceland's exports.

Some time ago the United Nations tried to settle various territorial limits and met with complete failure. Some South American countries claim more water than they have land and reach out 90 miles from their shores. The big nations, who developed extensive fishing industries, feel they cannot afford to back up. The small nations see a chance to kick the giant's nose again with glee. Iceland can point to Britain's acceptance of Norway's 4-mile limit as reason enough for her own original extension. But both Britain's breaking of the 4-mile extension agreement and Iceland's jump to 12 miles are indefensible diplomatically.

So while the world trembles with nuclear weapons, the Russian threat, the shells fall on Quemoy, and Middle Eastern kings are assassinated, one protective group of the free world may be sunk, not this time because of a lost horseshoe nail, but through a net of haddock.

Young Men Were Leaders in Early Days of United States

Sen. Paul Douglas, in Inquire Magazine.

In the seed-time of our republic, young men carved out stunning careers in public affairs. Jefferson was 33 when he wrote the Declaration of Independence. Madison 36 when he took the lead in drafting the Constitution. The wonder boy of the era, Alexander Hamilton, by 32 was George Washington's Secretary of the Treasury. At 20, he was well on the way to permanent fame as the General's military aide-de-camp, adviser — and a lieutenant colonel in the Revolutionary Army.

Nineteen signers of the Declaration of Independence were in their twenties and thirties and the average age of all signers about 45. I include Benjamin Franklin, 81, as an honorary member of these young giants. His mind — to quote a Convention delegate — "was alive as any man of 25."

In a young, yeasty, newborn America, young men had political opportunity thrust upon them. Older citizens, except for the perennially young — in — heart Franklin, were loath to break with the established order and English crown.

So it was youth which took the plunge for independence, and young men catapulted into leadership positions, who became founding fathers. Given responsibility, they matured rapidly. The nation's highest honors went to the politician and statesman, along with the clergy, and these professions attracted the most gifted and high-minded talents of the day.

Science Can't Solve Atom Test Issue—It Belongs to Politicians

From Hartford, Vt., Courant

After two and a half years of study a committee of outstanding scientists, working under the United Nations, has reported on the perils of atomic radiation. Its unanimous verdict is that atom bomb tests are a hazard to mankind.

What gives this conclusion its authority is the fact that, after a Soviet recommendation for "an immediate cessation of test explosions of nuclear weapons" had been eliminated, scientists from both sides of the iron curtain signed the report. Even the AEC, which has been hot and heavy for ever more atom bomb tests come hell or high radiation, has praise for the report. And in some things, like pointing out that there is no certainty that bomb tests produce new cases of leukemia and bone cancer, the report vindicates the AEC's position. But the opponents of bomb tests also hail the report, and its weight is on their side because it says:

The committee concludes that all steps designed to minimize the irradiation of human populations will act to the benefit of human health. Such steps include the avoidance of unnecessary exposure resulting from medical, industrial, and other procedures for peaceful uses on the one hand and the cessation of contamination of the environment by explosions of nuclear weapons on the other.

This conclusion the AEC attempts to discount by saying that "man must learn to live with new risks." On the face of it this sounds as though our top atomic authorities were so H-bomb happy that they wanted us to like the idea of strontium 90 in the air we breathe, the food we eat, and in our very bones. Actually the AEC argument makes sense, if read in context. As long as three years ago the late mathematician and AEC commissioner, John von Neumann pointed out that any new development that brings vast benefits to the overwhelming proportion of society also brings new risks and casualties. A simple illustration is the fact that Americans willingly pay 30,000 to 40,000 additional lives a year — 2 per cent of our total death rate — so that they may have automobiles.

It is good to have this objective U. N. report, with its beginning on a scientific understanding of the danger. But, for all that, this report leaves the question of banning atom bomb tests exactly what it was before — a political and not a scientific question. The military advantages in firing off ever bigger and dirtier — as well as cleaner — bombs are obvious. But the enormous political disadvantages are at least as obvious.

Down underneath there are also questions of fundamental military strategy, as just now laid bare in Gen. James M. Gavin's frightening book, "War and Peace in the Space Age." Is it right to continue the Adm. Strauss-Secy. Wilson policy of preparing only to fight a World war III that may never happen, instead of also the limited wars all too likely to happen? And what do we gain by ever more bomb tests, knowing the Russians will keep up with anything we achieve, at a cost of appearing before the world as just as atom-crazy as Mr. Khrushchev says we are? All these and more are political questions that no scientist, no high authority in the AEC or Defense Department, can answer for us. The American people themselves must answer them, and soon.

Combined Factors Causing Rural to Urban Migration

From the Mobile, Ala., Register

The rural to urban shift of population has reached a point where today only one out of eight persons in the United States lives on the farm.

In quoting statistics to this effect, the census bureau observes, however, that lately the rural to urban migration has been slowing down.

It also sees the possibility that the recession could have been a factor in the slowing down of this migration in recent months.

The business slump actually may have caused some population to return to farms, while discouraging other persons from moving away, the census bureau reasons.

Statistics show that the proportion of the total population living on farms declined from one-third in 1910 to one-sixth in 1950 and to one-eighth this year.

More than one explanation has been given for the changing ratio between rural and urban population, of course. And it is obvious that a combination of factors can be shown to have influenced it.

Street Stones Can Lead to Trouble

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Sept. 13, 1879.

A recent decision of the supreme court makes cities and towns liable for damages occurring to man, beast or vehicle by reason of stones being left in the traveled track of a highway.

There are several streets in Appleton upon which stones have been emptied under the mistaken supposition of the road repairers that they were spreading gravel.

The street committee should be advised of the fact that the woods are full of people anxious to be tipped out and hurt upon "them stones" so they can sue the city and obtain large damages.

Voters Should Learn Meaning of Primary

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — The thoughtful citizen might regard the general ignoring of the Wisconsin primary election on Tuesday as one of the gravest symptoms of disorder in the Wisconsin political system.

Wyngaard

This dispatch is being written before the primary, before the vote totals will be tallied and made public.

But it can be hazarded that only about one out of four of the men and women of Wisconsin who are eligible to take part in the nomination of candidates —, and whose participation was assumed when the elaborate and costly primary election machinery was contrived half a century ago — will actually cast their votes.

What does it mean, this wholesale indifference toward the business of nominating candidates that surely is as vital to the cause of popular government as is the later business of electing them in offices?

MISUNDERSTANDING

This chronicler knows very well that preaching has very little effect on these matters. Newspaper editors have been writing alarmist editorials about voter abstention for decades.

Performance has not visibly changed. If there is any difference, it is in the direction of even greater absenteeism. It might be argued that preachments have an opposite effect of that intended.

The solution must be sought in the cause. There is reason to believe that the primary system has failed — surely it is fair to say that it has failed when three out of four persons fail to take part in it. It has failed because it is not understood.

The educational process has failed in this vital sphere of human affairs. The schools of Wisconsin are turning out persons with acceptable understanding of the traditional academic subjects, it may be presumed, but they are defaulting on the business of training for citizenship.

These reflections are occasioned in part by a recent letter, enabling more farm work to be done with less manpower, is recognizable as one factor, but this cannot be said to fully cover the ground of why farm population has been dropping while the total population has grown.

The politicians in Washington may not put on any burst of speed to concede it, but dissatisfaction over the continued overdose of politics in farm policy for something like a quarter of a century could have caused some rural families to relocate in urban communities.

Next 6 Months Time to Prepare Dairy Appeal

From Wisconsin Council of Agriculture

After a year under the current lowered support level on milk and dairy products we should be able to make a more positive appraisal of lowered support levels as a means of adjustment. If there is no evidence that the lowered prices for milk and dairy products have resulted in larger sales and adjustment within the industry, it may be easier to get congress to consider constructive measure which ter from a young man who is concerned about the lack of interest among young people in public affairs, in party activity, and in voting and elections. He examined his own experience, and remembered that in his own high school there had never been a pretense of study of the fundamentals of the electoral system.

IGNORANCE

There is a lack of general understanding that the right to choose in November is worthless, to the extent that somebody else has made the decision about whose names will be carried, on the final election ballot.

There is a lack of understanding of the essential purpose and meaning of the primary election, as shown by the frequent questions and criticism about the straight party ballot requirement in the nomination process.

Maybe the terminology is too pedantic. Maybe another phrase ought to be substituted for "primary election," something that would carry within it the idea that the first balloting is really as important as the second.

Popular nomination of candidates was hailed as one of the great political reforms of the century. It was intended to put the business of picking candidates into the hands of the people, to thwart bosses and the special interests and anti-democratic forces generally.

But the citizen of philosophical bent may wonder what has been achieved when it is crystal clear that any sizeable pressure group that is resolved to do so can control the outcome of primaries through the certain and predictable indifference and absenteeism of 75 to 80 per cent of the people.

Little Done About Waste Of Schools

From the Fort Worth Star-Telegram

The economic waste in American public school buildings that are idle much of the year has long been recognized but little has been done about it. A deviation from that precedent, however, is developing in new construction in many parts of the country.

A notable development will be the project announced by William J. Levitt, mass producer of towns in the east. He has stated that his next 15,000-home project will include a school designed also to serve as a community center. There already are some school gymnasiums and auditoriums also utilized for non-school purposes. School cafeterias could serve as well for civic or neighborhood groups. The idea of a multi-purpose school room that could be used for various purposes is being considered by some authorities. The year-round use of schools for educational purposes would be the most practical plan, provided the buildings in most areas were air-conditioned for hot weather. An obstacle to non-school use of the structures would be the responsibility for damage, maintenance and care that should be shared by all users.

would strike at the basic problem, that of gearing supply to demand.

The next six months is the period in which the dairy industry must rally forces and prepare for a constructive appeal to congress for an improved program. The prospects for success will be much greater if this appeal is co-ordinated within the industry.

List Times, Places for Primary Vote Tuesday

Give Instructions on Use of Voting Machines; No Split Tickets Allowed

For Cities voters will go to the polls Tuesday to pick their candidates for the November election.

In Appleton the polls will open at 7 o'clock in the morning and close at 8 o'clock at night. Voting places in Kaukauna and Little Chute will open at 8 o'clock in the morning and close at 8 o'clock at night. Little Chute residents will vote at the village hall.

The polls in Kimberly will open at 7 o'clock in the morning and close at 8 o'clock at night. In Combined Locks voting begins at 9 o'clock in the morning and closes at 7 o'clock in the evening. In both villages the voting place is the village hall.

Voting Instructions
Appleton residents, as usual, will cast their ballots on voting machines. The major difference in voting in a primary election from any other election is that voters are restricted to the candidates of one party. The state law does not permit splitting the vote. The voting machine prevents a voter from casting ballots for both parties. The first step on entering the booth is to move the red handle to the right. This closes the curtains.

The second step is to turn down the primary lever at the lower right of the machine of the party desired. This unlocks the levers for candidates of the party selected and locks those for the other party.

Candidate Levers
Third step is to turn down the levers of one candidate for each office in the party selected. The location of the offices will be the same on all machines. The location of the candidates' names for any one office will be different in each precinct as they will be rotated in accordance with the law.

The voting pointers are left down until the voter moves the red handle to the left which registers the vote, returns the levers to their original positions and opens the curtain.

Movie Musical Not Dead, Says Cyd Charisse

Hers Have Done Well in Europe, Despite Others
BY BOB THOMAS
AP Motion Picture Writer
Hollywood —(P)—Is the musical dead in Hollywood? Cyd Charisse doesn't think so. Usually a calm tomato, she gets het up about those who would bury the tune-films. She admits she is on the defensive. The number of musicals has sagged to almost nothing, whereas they once constituted almost a fourth of the Hollywood product. The reasons are many. "Mainly, it's because musicals are expensive," she admitted. The 5-month strike of film musicians also contributed to the decline. There is the repeated claim that musicals do not sell overseas, where about half the profits must come in order for the studios to survive. Rejects Idea "I hear that all the time," Cyd said angrily, "and I don't think it's true. The whole thing started because 20th Century-Fox had bad luck with a couple of its musicals in Europe. They were 'Carousel' and 'The King and I.' "But those weren't movie musicals in the strict sense. They were filmed stage plays. There was little dancing, and most of the songs were sung in closeups. Some of the songs were cut in Europe, because they didn't understand them over there.

Dolores Hart Has Come Long Way

BY JAMES BACON
AP Motion Picture Writer

Hollywood — Other young actresses may have grabbed more front page publicity than Dolores Hart but few can match her career success in the last 18 months. Just 18 months ago, Dolores was a freshman at Mary-Cliff's. That picture just wound up the other day and of Lorraine" in a production given by the Loyola university dramatic group.

A friend sent her picture to Paul Nathan, associate of starmaker Hal Wallis. Nathan arranged a reading test with including an advance sale. Wallis who signed her the next day.

Since then she has played and appeared with Anna Magnani.

and Anthony Quinn in "Wild is the Wind."

Starring Roles

Now, in her first loanout to Dore Schar, she becomes a star in "Miss Lonelyhearts," her name billed above the title along with Montgomery Clift's. That picture just wound up the other day and of Lorraine" in a production given by the Loyola university dramatic group.

It has all the ingredients, good one that Wallis gave her a year's leave from her movie contract — a rare move for a Hollywood producer.

Wallis' logic makes sense: New Grace Kelly.

"I have Dolores under a 7-year contract," he says. "If the play's a hit — and it should be — then it can't help but benefit me. When I first saw Dolores, I saw her as the new Grace Kelly. A year on Broadway will give her the dramatic tools of her craft."

She still goes to church during the week, just as she

Dolores Hart, a College coed only 18 months ago, has a starring role on the New York stage ahead of her and stardom in the movie, "Miss Lonelyhearts," in which she plays opposite Montgomery Clift.

did before she became famous. She doesn't mind being known as a good girl although the more colorful actresses may get more publicity.

"I'm not long out of the convent," she says, "and I have too many friends among the nuns who watch my career. I could never do anything that would embarrass them."

Ernest Truex Surely Can't Hate Acting

He Will Start His 64th Season on New Ann Sothern Show

Hollywood — Ernest Truex says he doesn't like acting, never has.

Yet when the new Ann Sothern show goes on CBS-TV shortly, Truex will be starting his sixty-fourth season as an actor.

"I'm grateful for everything acting has brought me," Truex said, "but there's no ham in me. Acting has always been work, sometimes drudgery."

He's also one actor who never yearns to play Hamlet. "That's how I started in this business at the age of 5," he said.

Truex' father was a country doctor who once treated a penniless Shakespearean actor. The actor used his convalescence to teach 5-year-old Ernest how to recite Shakespeare. Child Hamlet

Truex got so good with the bard that he went on the road, billed as "the child Hamlet."

Being tiny, he played child roles until he was married and the father of a son.

Truex finally got out of child roles by growing a mustache.

"I immediately was cast—and still am—as a henpecked husband," he said.

That's what he will play in the new Sothern series.

HERE'S CONCRETE AGAIN!

You can relax on concrete. Nervous tension disappears and you ease your grip on the wheel. That's because you know that concrete pavement is smooth-riding and safe.

You can stop—quick—and check skidding on concrete, wet or dry. That's because its gritty surface grips tires. At night your headlights give you better, broader visibility because light-colored concrete reflects much more light than other pavements. That means greater safety, fewer chances for an accident.

Concrete pavement is economical, too. It gives many more years of uninterrupted, low-annual-cost service at far less maintenance cost than any other pavements.

Mr. Motorist, you pay for paving all roads with your gas taxes, license fees and other taxes. This money goes farther when invested in safe, economical concrete—it's your best pavement value.

To The Public:

We salute Neenah-Menasha and the entire Fox River Valley! We at Harn's M & M Furniture have made a good living here for the past 21 years. Changes are occurring constantly . . . and, with the construction of a $1,000,000 office building and many $30,000 to $40,000 homes in our vicinity, we realize, more and more, that our building is not keeping up with the times.

You people in Neenah-Menasha and the Fox Valley have treated us very well and we want to show our appreciation. It is with this in mind that we are announcing now that our store will soon be remodeled and brought "up to par" with the up-to-date construction that is going on about us.

With the rising cost of all commodities, we feel that now is the time for us to spend some money. Waiting, we believe, will be more expensive.

With pride, we want to be a part of the progress of Neenah-Menasha and the Fox River Valley.

Sincerely,

The Harn's
